The requests to boom schemes and help along matters of practically private business, without financial reward o themselves, are constantly made to newspaper men. They are importuned to help this plan and that plan and this and that institution, and all without money and with price. They are asked to sacrifice advertising income and help people who never have materially helped them and never will, and they are worked all the time and seldom with even the reward of a word of perfunctory thanks. And then the same people stand about and watch the newspaper crowd as they pass and congratulate, them on being able to live so cheaply and have all the luxuries of life furnished to them free !-Brockton Enterprise.

Jury Out a Remarkably Long Time In the Kobliviec Murder Case.

Conflicting Evidence Made It Difficult to Place Guilt.

Principal Witness For the Government Worried Himself Into Suicide.

> Bristol, R. I., Oct. 1 .- The jury in the Italian murder case, which was tried here last week, and who went out last Thursday, at 3:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon reported a disagreement. The jury was discharged. The defendants in the case were Chester Cardenta, Raffael Papa and Mrs. Philomena Cardenta. The defendants will now be held, without reme court.

Also a variety of Figured and Plain Muslin, from Sept. 2, as the outcome of a row between Poles and Italians, Karrol Kobliviec, the victim, who was stabbed, being of the former nationality, and the defendants of the latter.

The trial began on Monday morning efore Judge Dubois of the common pleas division of the supreme court, the taking of evidence occupying the time until p. m. , Wednesday. Judge Dubois harged the jury in an impartial manner and gave the case to their keeping a o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Since that time they were not outside he locked doors, until 10:30 Saturday forenoon, when Judge Dubois summone them before him and asked if they had been able to agree. Upon receiving a negative reply, he lectured them sharply impressing upon them the importance of an agreement. President Mitchell Fails to Outline Future of the bullets struck Father McCarthy Moves on Part of Labor Leaders.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.-No break has yet occurred in the ranks of the striking mine workers, though additional notices of gion ysterday. In fact there are many indications of an intent on the part of the strikers to insist on other concessions and also to remain out until the operators give recognition to their national organization.

The feature of yesterday was the parade and mass meeting of mine workers at Wilkesbarre, arranged with the object of demonstrating the strength of the United Mine Workers. The parade, headed by President Mitchell and the officers of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers, started a little after 2 o'clock. It is estimated that there were 15,000 men and breaker boys in line. The great bulk of the paraders was made up of stalwart men. As a rule they were vell dressed, and some of them, from their appearance, might be taken for a body of farmers. The music was furnished by about 40 bands and drum corps, lany banners and transparancies were

CATHOLIC PRIEST SHOT.

Bullet Put In His Back by a Man Who Is Supposed to Be Insane. Boston, Oct. 3.-Rev. Lawrence P.

McCarthy, pastor of the Church of the Holy Redeemer, East Boston, was shot yesterday by John Gleason, a maniac. The bullet, which entered the flesh; part of the back, just below the left shoulder, was extracted by surgeons soon after the shooting, and unless unexpected complications develop Father McCarthy will entirely recover within a few days.

Gleason entered the parochial res dence, which is always open, and asked for Father McCarthy. When the pastor appeared, Gleason is said to have greeted him with the question, "Were you born in Ireland?" When told that he was orn in East Boston, Gleason, it is said drew a revolver, and began firing. Be fore he could be stopped by the other occupants of the house, who entered the room at the sound of the pistol shots, one in the back. After the shooting Gleason walked into the police station, and while he was tell ing an incoherent story to Lieutenan Sargent, a man entered who said that Father McCarthy had been shot. Glea son was then locked up.

Gleason is an old soldier and has been drawing $15 per month from the state in wages were posted throughout the re- aid fund. He lived in a small room, and cooked his meals in his room. The weapon used was a 44-calibre revolver which was bought several years ago fo celebration purposes. The prisoner wil be arraigned on the charge of assault with intent to kill.

State Department Notified of Punishment of Tuan and Others.

Complete Agreement as to China Is Within Sight.

Opening Made by United States Being Take Advantage of by European Powers.

Washington, Oct. 3.-The Chinese min ister has delivered to the state depart ment official confirmation of the degra dation of Prince Tuan and many othe Chinese leaders. The following officia statement is made as to Minister Wu

"A cablegram received from Direct Sheng at Shanghai states that by an mperial edict, issued on Sept. 25, Prin Chwang, Prince Yih, Secondary Prince Tsai Lien and Tsai Ying, are deprive f all their respective ranks and office hat Prince Tuan is deprived of off and is handed over to the imperial cla ourt, which shall consult and dec pon a severe penalty, and his salary to be stopped; that Duke Tsai Lan a the president of the censorate, Yin Nien, are handed over to the same board evere penalty, and that Kang Yi, as sistant grand secretary and presider of the civil board of punishment, as anded over to the board of censors, wh hall consult and decide upon a penalty Minister Wu's information appears put at rest all question as to the fall the reactionary element, headed by Prince Tuan, and including the presider of the censorate and the board of punish ments. It shows, moreover, that the punishment of Tuan is more severe than heretofore reported, as he is re moved from office, a fact not stated i the previous dispatches. The clan cour is directed also to decide upon a "sever penaty," in addition to the loss of office, salary and servants. Favorable news has reached Washington from the European chancellories indicating that a complete agreement a to China is within sight. The agreement will be on the basis of the prope sition laid down by Secretary Hay in hi note of July 3, and the subsequent notes treating of that subject. The accord of Russia with the United States is more complete than was anticipated at first, and the reports show that all of the European nations, prob ably, are placing themselves in position to take advantage of the opening mad by the United States and soon will b ready to begin negotiations for a set tlement with the Chinese government The Russians aiready have given notic of such purpose, and while the text of the French note on this subject, referred to in yesterday's press dispatches, has not reached the state department, the officials are satisfied that this is co rectly reported, and that France, like Russia, is ready to negotiate at once. As for Germany, either the position of that government has been misunder stood or it has sustained a change of mind. Possibly the former is the case but however that may be, it is quite cer tain from the advices which have reached

Washington that the German gov-Inited States, finds therein nothing inonsistent with the German aspiration Then it may be expected that German too, will be prepared soon to join in thi ommon movement toward a settlemen It may be stated that, altogether, th prospects of an adjustment of the Chinese difficulty without resort to forma

Opening of the Convention at Indianapolis.

Speakers Denounce War In Philippines and Policy of the Administration.

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—The program for the opening session of the convention of the National Association of Democratic clubs, as officially announced, was changed just prior to the hour of meeting. President Hearst of Chicago was expected to be present to preside, but dent McKinley and his policy, views the cement. The canal boat sunk 30 feet telegraphed that he was ill and unable situation in our foreign dependencies from shore, and the transport was damto attend. Senator Jones, in opening the convensilver and a debased currency. ion, said: "During the last two or three weeks, clubs have been organized and have been reported to haedquarters at the rate of over 500 a day, until there are now by actual count 7353 Democratic clubs with an average membership of more than 200 already organized in all the states of this Union. With an organization of this kind, consisting of fore than 2,000,000 of members thoroughly organized and thoroughly awake to the necessities of the situation, at work in their localities everywhere, there can be no reasonable doubt of the result on the sixth of November next." Organization was then effected by electing Thomas Taggart temporary chairman; A. H. Ihmenson, New York, secretary; W. J. Pollard, St. Louis, reading clerk, and M. D. King, Indian apolis, sergeant-at-arms.

At this juncture, Adlai E. Stevenson was escorted into the hall by a band, and his appearance sent the convention into a pandemonium of applause. He said: "I thank you for this cordial greeting. I would not undertake now to address you, but at a later time, in accordance with the program, I will have the pleasure to address some remarks to my fellow Democrats. I can only say to you now that I bring you words of good cheer from the great Democratic state gentlemen, and there were no contests

ONE MAN INSTANTLY KILLED.

In a Collision of Trains.

Newport, Vt., Oct. 4 .- A spur train and a helper, going north to meet a freight train, collided head-on at North Derby curve yesterday, instantly killing Archie Bowker, the fireman of the helper; probably fatally injuring Asa Kimball, the fireman of the spur train, and Henry Stratton, one of the passengers, and causing more or less severe injuries to 11 others.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratton, parents of Harry Stratton, were badly injured. Their son, who was on his way to this place, where he was to have been married last night, had both legs and one arm broken. Engineer Hunting of the helper had his shoulder proken and sustained injuries about the head, while the other engineer, Charles Dennison, was badly scalded. Conductor Stevens was pinned under the tender and jackscrews had to be used to release him. The engines and cars of both trains were completely demolished. The cause of the collision is not known.

STITE OF THE SEA.

Men Aboard the Ellerslie Had Frightful Experience For Ten Days.

Masts Went by the Board During Terrible Hurricane.

Had All But Given Up Hope When Rescued by a Steamer Bound For Boston.

Boston, Oct. 4.-Fourteen shipwrecked seamen, the crew of the once fine ship Ellerslie of Liverpool, were landed a this port yesterday afternoon by the British steamship Amana, which rescued the men from their waterlogged and dismasted vessel in mid-ocean five days ago.

The rescue was effected last Saturday afternoon, after the men had endured 0 days of sufferings and privations, and when they had despaired of ever seeing ome again.

One member of the crew. John Graham 1, a native of Glasgow, fell from aloft n the morning of Sept. 18, and was lost Captain Cook states that the Ellerslie eft Ship Island, Miss., Aug. 18, with nearly 1,000,000 feet of pine lumber, for Liverpool, and had light winds until Sept. 3, after which a succession of gales was encountered, developing on the 18th into a perfect hurricane. During the next few days the wind blew at the rate of 80 miles an hour at times, the vesse rolling and pitching in a terrible manner all the while. The seas had encroached on the position of the men on the poop deck, and they were forced to the forecastle head to prevent being carried overboard. Even then their position at times was almost untenable, but they managed to keep together.

The sufferings of the men became in tense through lack of fresh water, the gale moderated soon afterwards. crew set to work clearing away the mass of wreckage from the deck in order t secure a donkey boiler with which t gallons of sea water were thus con densed and the crew were given small drinks of this, diluted with lime juice This appeared their thirst somewhat and their sufferings were less acute. During all these days the vessel wa being made the toy of the waves, the erew was endeavoring to attract the atfour steamers passed within sight of the shipwrecked men, but apparently did not see their signals of distress. Finally, on the 20th at 2 p. m., Captain Cook saw a faint streak of smoke far away to the eastward. All hands eager y watched the volume grow in size, un il the outlines of a steamer were made out on the horizon. The stump of the mainmast was now utilized for distr flags, and not only the British jack, but a bunch of the international code signals was nailed to it to catch the eye of the on-coming steamer. The latter proved o be the Amana, and was soon withi hailing distance. The steamer's boats were speedily lowered. Although the gale had moderated. the two boats with their gallant crews experienced great difficulty in getting longside the wreck, owing to the imnense amount of wreckage hanging over the side and dragging in the water After several ineffectual efforts, the mer were gotten off the wreck and transferred to the steamer. The Ellerslie was then set on fire.

The men of the wrecked vessel were loud in their praise of the conduct of the officers and crew of the steamer. Captain Cook saved the ship's papers and his chronometer, but the crew lost most f their possessions in the wreck.

The wrecked bark was built in New Brunswick in 1872; she registered 1287 ons net, and 1389 tons gross. She was valued at $15,000 and uninsured. John Witherspoon of Liverpool was man-

Liberals Making Gains.

London, Oct. 4.-The results of yesterlay's polling in the parliamentary genral election were less striking than those of Tuesday. On the whole, the indication this morning is that there will not be much change in the complexion of the new parliament.

Savage, cut on the hands and burned about the head; Mrs. George W. Savage, injuries sustained For distances of by leaping from a burning building and nervous shock.

Dunton was showing Savage how a new repeating shotgun worked, when in some way the cartridge was exploded. The gun burst and the concussion ignited some cartridges and dynamite near at hand, causing a terrific explosion which stunned and injured the men. When they regained consciousness the room was full of smoke and flames. Savage groped his way to the door, while outsiders rushed in and carried Dunton out. Abel Kimball, who was in an adjoining store, was knocked down by the force of the explosion. The upper floor of the store of Savage & Dunton was occupied as living rooms by Mr. and Mrs. Savage, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Gil-Mrs. Gilman and Mrs. Savage were in the rooms when the accident occurred. The former escaped safely, but Mrs. Savage, who was infirm and was startled by the explosion, jumped to the ground and sustained injuries which, it s feared, may prove fatal.

The fire fighting facilities of the town are inadequate, and it was impossible to save the two store buildings. The emperor seems so anxious to prove his personal good faith in the whole af. fair, that it would not be surprising to see him deal with this matter in a very vigorous way, and no fear is entertained of interference by the empress dowager, who, if unprejudiced accounts of her character are to be trusted, would not hesitate any more to take off the head of her friend Tuan than to kill a rabbit. if she saw any ultimate advantage to accrue to herself from the sacrifice. Mr. Bryan dwelt at length on the Philippine question, and arraigned the Republicans severely for attempting to violate the constitution in governing a people against their will, and refusing citizenship to the newly acquired terri tory. In this connection he included Porto Rico. DIRT CLEARANCE.

Be a T is a good plan for every bather to know something of the soap he uses. There is a well-founded objection to using a floor-cleaning soap upon the human body. Ivory Soap is the bather's soap. It costs more than common soaps, but the difference is in the ingredients and making. Why not treat yourself with a little respect. Is not the human skin with its marvellous delicacy entitled to pure soap? Ivory Soap—it floats.

BROOKS & AMES,

The United States and Germany Appear to Be In Full Agreement.

Instructions to Conger Virtually Cover Points Urged.

France and Russia Submit Proposals Which Are Being Favorably Considered.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The unity of Germany and the United States, the one the most radical of the powers in dealing with Chinese questions, and the other the most conservative, has apparently been achieved by China herself. Prop ositions of a far-reaching character con cerning China are being presented in rapid succession to this government The state department had no sooner disposed of one of these propositions yesterday, by delivering a response to the German government, than it was con fronted by an even more important proposition, submitted by the French government, and within half an hour formally seconded by the Russian gov

The answer to Germany covered the subject of punishing Chinese offenders and made known that the United States had instructed Minister Conger along the lines suggested by Germany. Thes instructions look towards securing th names of the persons deserving chastisement, also whether the punishments accorded with the gravity of the crime committed, and, finally in what man-ner the United States and the other powers are to be assured that satisfictory punishment is inflicted. Aside from the specific purposes of the note, it is regarded as important chiefly in establishing the most satisfactory relation between the governments at Washington

The Franco-Russian proposal takes much broader scope, and submits a program under which the negotiations for a complete settlement can be carried for ward. The French charge, M. Thie baut, handed the proposition to Secretary Hay shortly after noon, and held a brief

Half an hour later, M. De Wollant, th Russian charge, arrived at the state department and handed to Mr. Hay a note expressing Russian approval of the propositions just submitted by France. Mr Hay gave no formal answer to the two munications, as they will go first to the president at Canton.

The Franco-Russian proposition is under four heads, namely, first, punish ment of the guilty parties; second, interdiction of the shipment of arms into China; third, permanent indemnity to the powers, and fourth, sufficient guarantees for the future. In addition, a suggestion is made for the establishment of a permanent legation guard at Pekin for the razing of the Taku forts and fo the maintenance of a line of communica tion between Pekin and the sea. The impression here, in advance of acion on these propositions by our government, is that they contain nothing essentially unfitting them to be subject of consideration in a final settlement The difficulty which is likely to arise lies in the placing of proper lin particularly true of the subject of guar intees, and, perhaps, of that of in deninity. Still, as already suggested each is undoubtedly a most proper subfect for discussion when the final nego tiations are reached, and, therefore, M. Delcasso's broadcast propositions, while likely to consume some time in reducing them to ultimate and binding form, may be said to have a fair recepform, may be said to have a fair reception awaiting them.

As to the interdetion of arms, the state PICS I department already has intimated that there may be a question as to its wisdon and there is reason to believe, also, that Germany will not view that particular feature with approval. But there appears to be good reason to expect that a middle ground will be reached by confining the interdiction of arms to a specified period, possibly to be fixed by the time required by China within which to pay the indemnty. The chief ob-jection to the proposition is in its being permanent in its present form.

What the United States governmen articularly desires to avoid is enterng into a program that leans in any nanner toward the maintenance of a foothold on Chinese soil, and if the other ropositions relative to the maintenance of a line of free and safe communication between Pekin and the sea and to the egation guards can be modified in the irection of temporary expedients, they will be more likely to receive the support of our government. It is apparent from the complexion of the latest Franco-Russian proposal that the phase of negotiations thus initiated will take some time to dispose of.

AMBASSADOR TO ITALY. Opinion at Boston That Mr. Meyer Will Be Appointed to the Office.

Boston, Oct. 5 .- A special dispatch to The Transcript from Washington states that Secretary Hay gave denial to a report that George Von L. Meyer had been offered the embassy to Italy, but admitted that his name had been among the few under consideration. There is a widespread notion here that Mr. Meyer is the coming man.

Senator Lodge confirmed the story that he and senator Hoar had united on ex-Speaker Meyer. "I will say," said Mr. Lodge, "that Senator Hoar wired me a few days ago, so there is union on the

It is said, also, that Mr. Meyer will accept the position. If he does, the congressional situation in the Sixth district will be simplified, for it is the dispostion to keep Mr. Moody in congress as long as he will stay there, and it is known in the district that Mr. Meyer would like a seat in the lower body, and his services to the party have been so conspicuous that the fact has caused a ittle uneasiness for a long time.

CONTRACTOR CONTRACTOR

WAKING AT NIGHT.

When I wake up alone at night,
I feel as if I had no eyes;
I stare and stare with all my might,
But only blackness round me lies.

I listen for the faintest sound, And, though I strain with either ear, The dark is silent all around;

It's just as if I could not hear. But if I lie with limbs held fast A sort of sound comes like a sigh-Perhaps the darkness rushing past, Perhaps the minutes passing by.

Perhaps the thoughts in people's heads, That keep so quiet all the day, Wait till they're sleeping in their beds, Them rustle out and fly away!

Or else this noise like whirring wings That dies with the first streak of light
May be the sound of baby things All growing, growing in the night,

Children and kitty cats and pups, Or even little buds and flowers, Daisies perhaps and buttercups, All growing in the midnight hours.

And yet it seems of me a part, And nothing far away of queer * * *

It's just the beating of my heart

That sounds so strange as I lie here! I do not know why this should be: When darkness hides the world from sight,
I feel that all is gone but me—
A little child and the black night.

Landor did not notice the turmoil. He had become accustomed to it many months ago. He was absorbed, but not in his work. The minute hand had crawled quite around the dial of the big clock in the corner since he had formed a figure on the ledger lying open before him. But he had been writing. His gaze dropped to the page upon his desk. As he scanned the verse he had written his eyes took on the mingled dreaminess and sparkle one sees only in the orbs of a poet.

He drew from his desk a little glove, pearl colored and perfumed. There was inspiration in the sight, the scent, the touch, of it. He laid it gently back, seized his pen and began on another

After what he had ignorantly learned he must now learn more. It meant life and all that life held for him-the words which were traced on the next page-life and love or bitter and enduring disappointment:

My Dear Friend—When you asked me lately if Landor Aldrich should do me the honor to ask me to be his wife—would I marry him—I gave you no reply. I will te!' you now. I fear your opinion should it be lightly formed. I dread lest you think me guilty of a vulgar caprice. I will be quite frank. I think he does care for me, and I—

There the page ended. The dreaminess was gone from his until the fierce pressure pained.

He turned the page. He read on: -well, I've never worn my heart on my sleeve,

This, my friend, is why. He is not proving himself. He is an idler, a dreamer. With every avenue of success stretching broad and fair before him he is content to pass hours occupying a purely nominal position in his father's office. He leads the cotillon well; none better. In all matters of dilettanteism his taste is cultured and fine, and he writes the most mysical verses and fine, and he writes the most mysical verses and fine, and he writes the most mysical verses and fine, and he writes the most musical verses on may imagine. One must admire as well as love the man one marries. How can one admire the individual who saunters through life as through a charity fair? His degrees entitle him to a uni-versity professorship. "What's up, Landor? You look queer." "I'm all right, sir. I want a word with you, though. Now will do as well as any time. Whom were you thinking

"Will you trust me to go, father?" "You!" The elder man's haggard face lighted up, then fell. "You're not capable of the task, my boy. It's a tremendous one.'

Landor smiled with pale lips, but the smile was winning. "You should have more confidence in my father's son," he protested gently. The words warmed the old man's

And there was a new elasticity in the gait of the commercial magnate as he took his son's arm and went down to his carriage.

The following day a note came to Landor—a formal, demure little note: Dear Mr. Aldrich-I find I failed to send you vesterday my line of thanks for those violets. Will you take the belated gratitude now? There was a mistake somewhere. Always sincerel, KATHERINE CLERMONT.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 7.-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle, Topic.-Rich toward God.-Luke xii, 13-21. THE PARABLE.

Christ had been speaking to the multitude concerning hypocrisy, the importance of dangers that threatened the soul and God's providential care of His people. In the midst of such a discourse He was interrupted by one who had been thinking of worldly things while Christ had been speaking of spiritual things. The interrupter asked Christ to make his brother divide an inheritance with him, but He refused. This was a legal question and belonged to the courts of justice for settlement, but back of this aspect of the case a moral question was involved. The question was inspired by covetousness, and therefore Christ warned the questioner against this sin and enforced His warning by the parable of the foolish rich man. A rich man's ground brought forth plentifully. He decided to increase his barns to hold his enlarged products. He exulted in his riches and decided to live a selfish and sensual life upon them. But God said: "Thou fool; this night shall thy soul be required of thee. Then whose shall these things be which thou hast provided? So is he that layeth up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God."

THE INTERPRETATION.

The rich fool in this parable repre sents the man who sees in riches the means to the end of serving God and his fellow men. He lives for himself and desires to be rich for purely selfish purposes. He places earthly wealth above heavenly treasure. This man was not a fool because he was rich nor because he enlarged his barns when his crops greatly increased. He was a fool because he looked upon his riches as his and not God's, because he thought he could feed his soul upon material substances and because he took no account of the fact that he had no indefinite base upon life. So is every one who, like this man, lays up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God.

THE APPLICATION. This parable sets forth what it is not what it is to be rich toward God. Richness toward God does not consist in material wealth. "A man's life conones commented. "It seems impossi- sisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." A man may be wealthy and at the same time rich toward God, but mere worldly but are often a barrier to it. Richness toward God is spiritual wealth. To be rich toward God we must be "rich in faith," "rich in good works," rich in the spiritual favors and bless to lay up treasures for ourselves, our own selfish aims and purposes. Earth- free of charge. ly treasures may vanish in a night, but heavenly treasures endure forever.

THE PRAYER MEETING. Have the parable explained, followed by an open voluntary service.

No one returns to tell his experience or describe to us what he has seen. Angels' feet are always upon the ladder going from us to God and returning to minister to us, but they minister in silence. We hear no voice as they serve. There are many questions we would like to ask, many questions we do ask, but neither by the written word nor by vision in the night is any answer given. Heaven lies beyond the domain of the present life, and we must wait until we come into the fullness of the Spirit, until we enter the higher sphere of being, before we can know or comprehend its Such knowledge is as yet too wonderful for us. Big Coal Company Offers to Advance Wages and Reduce Price of Powder.

Probability That Strikers Will Accept Proposition.

New Employes In Lattimer Mines Attacked While In a Railroad Car.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—The belief prevalent here that the anthracite coal strike is approaching an end is considerindividual operators in following the lead of the big coal carrying and coal mining railroads by offering a net increase of 40 percent in the wages of their

The first break among the individual operators in this district was made yesterday when Pardee & Co., operating the Cranberry and Crystal Ridge collieries, offered its employes a 10 percent net increase in wages and a reduction in the price of powder is to be taken into ac count in the advance of the wages. That four or more of the individual mine owners will make the same offer is hardly doubted.

Before the advance was made public general superintendents of other individual coal companies were invited to the Pardee company's office in this city for the purpose of giving their views on the proposed offer.

These representatives did not say what their companies would do, but it was learned that the concensus of opinion was that if the mine owners wish to keep their collieries in operation they would have to increase the wages of their men. None of the superintendents at the meeting would say anything in regard to the report that the coal carrying roads had made concessions to the individual operators in the matter of freight rates.

President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers is much interested in the advance made by the individual companies, but would say nothing for publication. There is a strong belief here that Mr. Mitchell is waiting for all the coal companies in the anthracite region to offer the 10 percent increase before he will call a joint convention to consider the proposition.

Mr. Mitchell would say nothing on this particular subject. He has all along advocated unity of action, and it is that that strengthens the opinion that he will call the convention after all the companies have made an offer. He continues to say that the strike cannot be settled without a convention, and that he was waiting on the operators. In the meantime, the men now on strike, said to number 138,000, are not wavering under the proffered increase

In the Lackawanna and Wyoming disditions remain about the same in the Lehigh valley region, while in the these protections. Schuylkill district more men have laid down their tools and quit. At quitting time last night another attack was made on the mine workers employed in the Lattimer mines. About 50 of the men, while being conveyed to car drawn by a mine engine, were attacked by about 100 strikers. Stones and rocks were thrown at the men in the car, and two of the workmen were se verely cut about the head. Sheriff Harvey, who was on the car, ordered the engineer to stop and as he and a few deputies stepped from the coach, the attacking party scattered in all directions. Two pistol shots were heard, but which side fired them is not known.

Spinners Want Higher Wages.

Pawtucket, R. I., Oct. 6 .- Unless the American Yarn company grants an inrease of wages to the mule spinners will be ordered and the 8500 spindles in the mill will become idle. The spinners claim that they are paid 30 points per 100 skeins below the standard wages, amounting to a difference in their earnings of about $2 a week.

Unique Strike Settled.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 6 .- A strike of union, has been won. The settlement carried with it a reduction of wages. The owners of the mines never recognized the union, but paid wages averaging 5 cents more than the union schedule. This, probably, is the first strike for lower wages ever made.

SKULLS AND EONES DUG UP. Possible Relics of the Battle of Banker Hill Unearthed by Laborers.

Boston, Oct. 6 .- Workmen employed in digging a trench between two of the timber sheds at the lower end of the Charlestown navy yard, yesterday, unearthed several human skeletons. The remains were found beneath a large tree, only a short distance from the old timber dock. Five skulls, one in a remarkably good state of preservation, and many other bones, have been dug up. They were enclosed in wooden boxes when placed in the ground, for small decayed pieces of wood were found mixed with the bones. Three of the skeletons were evidently buried each in a separate coffin, as they were found entirely separated from each other and some distance apart. The other two were both put in one box. The remains were laid side by side, and those so far found came in the line of the 11/2-foot wide trench, so it seems more than likely that there are others on the other side of this old tree. The officers of the navy yard are wondering where the skeletons came Some of the old residents of Charlestown say that when the government first established the navy yard there was a hospital on the site of the officers' houses, next to the Chelsea bridge, and that there was a cemetery only a short distance off and near the shore. Another theory is that the skeletons unearthed were those of British soldiers who were killed at the Battle of Bunker Hill.

The remains which have been dug up have been placed in the wooden box, and will be preserved until some decision is arrived at concerning their disposal They probably will be interred in the naval cemetery at Chelsea.

Umilian Is Convicted of the Murder of Jedrusick In December Last.

Crime Was of an Exceptionally Brutal Nature.

Horribly Mutilated and Headless Body of the Victim Was Found In a Well.

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 6 .- Convicted of murder in the first degree. Franceszek Umilian, a Pole, is in his cell in Hampshire county jail, while the electric chair at the state prison at Charlestown awaits its first victim. For over five hours the jury which had listened to the evidence in an exceptionally brutal murder wrestled with the question of degree of guilt, and finally, after explanation by the court, brought in its the decision and when sentence is imposed it is probable that he will show little, if any, interest in his fate.

The trial was a tedious one, as most of the evidence had to be translated into the Polish tongue. Umilian was accused of killing Kazimierz Jedrusick, or 'Jack," as he was called, and throughout Umilian stolidly denied knowledge of how Jack met his death. Yesterday the trial was dramatically ended by Umilian saying in his own defense, just after Judge Sherman had finished charging the jury, "Me no kill Jack nor any-

The session of the court was a special one, and Umilian will be sentenced at the regular session, although it is anticipated that a motion for a new trial will be made, and a date set for arguing the exceptions already taken. His friends openly said it with a man whose identity has not been was a case of foul play. A Polish priest at Chicopee took an active interest in the case, and the police set to work to determine the value of the suspicions. Clue after clue was followed to no avail, and finally the actions of Umilian about the time of the disappearance. were looked up. Then it soon became plain that there had been, for a considerable time previous to Dec. 31, much ill feeling on the part of Umilian for Jedrusick. The men were said to have had disagreements, Umilian accusing the other of being too attentive to his wife. It developed that neighbors had heard Umilian threaten Jedrusick's life more than once, and the finding of the mutilated and headless body of the latter caused great excitement. The body, which was stabbed and hacked in a frightful manner, with several of the members entirely severed, was wrapped up in an old sack deep down in an unused well, where it had lain for three months.

The arrest of Umilian followed. He stoutly denied any knowledge of the whereaboute of Jack, and in the face of incriminating evidence through all the trial never did he show the least sign of weakness, nor give any evidence during his cross examination which was particularly incriminating. The trial developed the fact that jealousy was the cause of the ill feeling between the men. To further aggravate his hatred Umilian was of the opinion that Jedrusick kept fresh the story that the former had another wife

SPEAKS FOR M'KINLEY.

Eckels Prefers to "Trust His Wisdom and Experience to Bryan's Vagaries."

Warns Laboring Men Against Assault on Banking System.

Defends Trusts and Pleads For Defeat of "Bryanized and Emasculated Democracy."

Chicago, Oct. 6 .- James H. Eckels, excomptroller of the treasury, spoke in the Auditorium last night to an audience that packed the great hall as tightly as it could be packed, hundreds of people being turned away. The meeting was under the auspices of the Business Men's Sound Money association, and embraced men of all parties who oppose the 16 to 1 plank of the Democratic platform. Mr. Eckels was introduced by William Davis, president of the Amalgamated Associa tion of Iron and Steel Workers, who made a short address. The iron and president of the Amalgamated Associasented in the meeting. Mr. Eckels spoke

In opening his speech Mr. Eckels said "I propose in this campaign, as a Democrat, to support Mr. McKinley for reelection, and on that behalf, I am upon this platform. The speaker went on to point out that the overwhelming mass of business interests in this country repudiated the tatements and the views expressed and held by Mr. Bryan, not from political or class prejudice, but because they want only stability in money, equity in law, and wisdom of word and action in the executive. They distrust Mr. Bryan, Speaking to the laboring men, he said: "I am certain, despite some individual injustice here and individual injustice there, you are better off at present and will be in the future, by acting with those who employ labor and not making common cause with men who neither themselves labor outside of the realm of politics for their own advancement, nor give employment to others."

Mr. Eckels warned the laboring men against taking part in the assault on the banks which would fall nowhere more heavily than on he savings' institu-He denied the doctrine that the banker prospers in the distress of the country as "unsound in reason and

He pointed to statistics to show that banks shared in general distress, and then to the present improved facilities by which the laborer is the gainer.

"The difficulty with Mr. Bryan's states manship," he said, "is that it is a statesmanship of prejudice, class distinctions and misinformation. It is a statesmanship which takes no thought of the morrow, but contents itself with the political advantages of today."

The speaker then went into an elaborate defense of combinations of capital which, though large in the amount of capital invested, have regard for all the rules which control in ordinary business

He said that as a result of misinforomplicated and efficient form of civilization, made more manifest as man is fluences of ignorance and barbarism. Speaking of the reaffirmation of the persons were wounded. Chicago platform, Mr. Eckles said that if elected Mr. Bryan would abrogate the right of private contract and thereby put a premium upon dishonesty and evasion of just obligations. "The Democratic party," he said, "is against the enforcement of law and order by the lawfully constituted authorities in opposition to the will of mob law. It is against the country's courts of justice and the majesty of the law. It has no use for civil service. Its denunciation of trusts is a sham, branded so by placing the trust supporting and trust supported leaders of Tammany, high in Democratic councils. In fine, Mr. Bryan has brought the Democratic party to that unhappy condition where it can work injury to all and good to none."

In the most elaborate manner Mr. Eckels pictured the disaster consequent upon the enforcement of Mr. Bryan's views on silver and the effect upon the laboring man, and said that he would rather for all time to come forfeit his right of affiliation with the Democratic party than by chance assist in giving place to one who would, if placed in power, work out by the incorporation of his financial views and socialistic theories into the law of the land a disaster so widespread and a ruin so far-war with Spain, or of colonial expansion, accomplished fact made so largely by Africa.' Mr. Bryan's co-operation, and dealing with conditions as they are and not as they might have been, I prefer to trust the wisdom and experience of President McKinley, to the vagaries of Mr. Brvan.

"With each returning year ,a better condition will, through American influences, be worked out for the people of our foreign possessions, until, fitted for a larger liberty, they take their place in the galaxy of republics. But it will come about only through wisdom of act, statesmanlike legislation and educa tion. It will not be the fruits of designing demagogues, patrician politicians and self-enriching spoilsmen." In conclusion, Mr. Eckels said: "In the interest of good government, conservative administration, sound economic laws, full and fair regard for personal and property rights, the elimination of class distinctions, the wiping out of class prejudices, the dignity and power of law I ask you to sustain the administration and defeat a Bryanized and emasculated Democracy. In such a course lies assurance of preserving for your children's children, untarnished in all their integrity, those best traditions of the re-

CONGRESSMAN LAWRENCE'S ADDRESS. Complete Satisfaction With Candidates Upon State and National Tickets.

Congressman Lawrence in accepting the chair addressed the convention as Gentlemen of the convention: We are assembled in convention to execute the will of the Republican party of Massachusetts-that party which for nearly half a century has been responsible for a government which has contributed in highest measure to the happiness, prosperity and fair fame of our beleved com ealth. It is gratifying to be able to state that during the past year the standard of official life has not been lowered. Laws have been enacted with a view to protecting the rights of all the people. Affairs of state have been administered with constant watchfulness and with such skill and judgment as to the books of the state as an asset has een disposed of for five millions of dollars. The recommendation of th governor in his inaugural address, that economy be practised in appropriations and expenditures; that there be no further increase of our debt, and that there be less legislative interference with municipal affairs have been observed. The reputation of Massachusetts' executives for courage and fidelity has not suffered.

In carrying out the wishes of those who sent us here it is not assuming too much, perhaps, to say that we shall renominate our wise and faithful Winthrop Murray Crane. No president deal with questions so important, so sideration patience, patriotism and wisdom. He has been actuated by love of country and a desire to do right. We welcome this opportunity, representing as we do the Republicans of Massachusetts, to pledge our loyalty and our enthusiastic devotion to William Mc-Kinley.

We also express our complete satisfaction with our candidate for vice president. It did not need that gallant charge up San Juan hill to convince us that he had the right kind of stuff in him. We have known him for years and known him well. Wherever placed, his high honor, splendid integrity, unbounded energy and great ability have made his service noteworthy. Massachusetts Republicans do not yield in enthusiasm for him, even to the Rough Riders themselves. We are all for the gallant and strenuous Theodore Roosevelt.

GOOD TIMES AND GOOD GOVERNMENT. The Logical Result of the Election of Mc-Kinley and Roosevelt.

History records that during the fou years of Democratic misrule there was financial distress and commercial depression. Even Uncle Sam was obliged to borrow money to pay bills contracted in a time of profound peace, and our national debt was increased by the amount of $262,602,245. It is difficult for us in these sunny days of prosperity to realize the direful conditions of that time. Thousands of failures, railroads In the hands of receivers, banks gone to the walls, tens of thousands of men unable to secure employment, that was the story of the time. Statistics bearing upon this condition are appalling. I do not propose to weary you with them. of cannot, however, resist quoting a few as samples. Wages earned in 1894 were 45 percent less than in 1892. Thirty percent of the people could find no work, and the output of the factories was decreased by 44 percent. Establishments which from January to June of 1892 gave employment to 69,856 hands had work for only 49,060 during the corresponding months of 1894. During the first three months of 1896 there were 4512 failures, with liabilities amounting to $62,513,826 The farmers of the United States lost more than $1,000,000,000 a year on account of decreased consumption and decreased values. As soon as President McKinley was inaugurated he called congress together in extraordinary ses sion in order that the pledge of the Republican party-to pass a tariff law which would afford protection to American labor and American capital and revive the shattered industries of the land -might be fulfilled. We shall place upon the An investigation was made by the American Protective Tariff league in 1899 and returns received from 1957 employers of labor in 39 lines of industry, established in 46 states and territories. They showed that the number of persons employed in those establishments in 1895 was 191,732, while the number employed in March, 1899, was 267,486. The amount of wages paid had increased from $6,398,-044 in March, 1895, to $9,859,280 in March, 1899. During the first three years of the second Cleveland administration our exports exceeded our imports by $679,000,-000. During the first three years of the present administration the excess was $1.531,000,000, a net gain of $852,000,000. We of New England are naturally much interested in the condition of our export trade in manufactured articles. The record is gratifying and significant. The exports of manufactured articles in those three melancholy years ('93, '94, '95) amounted to $568,000,000, but during the three cheering years of the McKinley dministration they reached the splendid total of $998,000,000, an average gain of $143,000,000 per year. In 1895 our exports fell to $793,392,590. For the year 61,252,203,987, while our imports were only $798,345,571. During two successive years (1898-1999) the balance of trade in our favor has amounted to over eleven hundred millions of collars.

Carroll D. Wright, the commissioner of the department of labor, "na recent article, says that to secure commercial country ascendency the exports of a must be greater than those of another country, and after careful examinati clude that at the present time the exports of the United States exceed those of any other country of the world-that today we are, as a nation, commercially tne action of the Republican national supreme. He has brought to their con- futation of the claims made by the Democrats in the campaign of 1896. Every argument they then advanced has been proven worthless-every prediction has been shattered. Is it any wonder that we do not hear them talking about tariff reform? Is it surprising that they exhibit marked reluctance about referring to free silver, that cureall of 1896? The past four years have impeached them. Turning from the indisputable facts which have confounded and discredited them, they clutch with feverish fingers at a man of straw, which they have labelled "Imperialism, They hope that the people, frightened by shouts of the empire and oppression, may forget the bitter lessons of experience They have even solemnly decreed that the paramount issue of the campaign shall be imperialism. They cannot distract the attention of the people from the fact that good times and good government came as the logical result of the election of William McKinley.

SOUND FINANCIAL POLICY. Adherence to It Will Make Our Present Prosperity an Endu ing Prosperity.

When the Republican party met in convention at St. Louis in 1896 those who believed in the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 marched out of the convention hall and out of the Republican party. The chairman of the convention expressed his regret, that any should feel obliged to eave their party, but in clear and ringing tones announced that there seemed to be delegates enough remaining to do business. He was right. There were enough, and they proceeded to do business. A solemn pledge was made that the Republican party would remain "unlterably opposed to every measure ca culated to debase our currency or impair the credit of the country."

Again the public credit is assailed. The Democratic party, through a resoultion adopted at its Kansas City conven ion, has solemnly declared its purpose if returned to power, to restore silver t free and unlimited coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1. That is the issue which is "paramount" in the heart of the Democrati candidate, even if he ingeniously refrains from saying so in public speech. In accepting the nomination of the Populist party Mr. Bryan said: "It is true that the Populists believe in an irreeemable greenback, while the Demo party and an absolute and entire re-it will make our present prosperity an ders whose freedom and citiz Tship was enduring prosperity.

THE TRUSTS.

Congress Should Be Given the Power to Act In the Matter.

The record of the Democratic party upon this subject is not one in which it an take special pride or satisfaction. When in power it has shown itself entirely incompetent to grapple with the question. Its investigations have resulted in referring the matter to subsequent congresses. Its work has never been constructive. It is significant that these great combinations do not come to Republican Massachusetts, seeking incorporation. Our corporation laws (especially those which prevent overapitalization and compel publicity) are not attractive to them. Many of the that it is not within the power of any states have enacted stringent anti-trust laws, but they cannot compel New Jersey or Delaware or West Virginia to do so. Combinations to corner the mar ket to control the necessaries of life, to restrict production, to raise prices or to restrain trade have been pronounced by the courts contrary to public policy and void. But as it is impossible to secure uniformity of action on the part of the states, we believe that congress shall have power to act. To that end an amendment to the constitution was proposed during the last session of congress and passed through the house by the votes of the Republican majority. The record of the Republican party is not confined entirely to "resolutions" and 'investigations." Carefully considered legislation has been placed upon the statute books. Its efforts have been and will continue to be to destroy combinations formed for illegal purposes-to control and regulate all proper combinaions of capital, and compel them to render just and honest service to the people. MR. M'KINLEY'S "IMPERIALISM."

A Story of Faithful and Conscientious Per. formance of a Nation's Obligations.

Since the Republican triumph of 1896 we have been making history very rapidy. An unhappy people upon a neighborng island cried out so pitifully in their sufferings that we could not refuse to hear them. The American people demanded that Spanish tyranny and misrule in Cuba should cease. The president endeavored to secure this result through diplomatic channels. You retime. No president was ever more biterly maligned than was President Mc-Kinley because he shrank from a declaration of war. Let me quote a few sentences from a speech made by Senator Tillman (whom I consider the ablest of the Bryan leaders) at the last session of congress. He was speaking of the attitude of his party toward our colored citizens. He said:

"We took the government away. We stuffed the ballot boxes. We shot them. We are not ashamed of it. With that system, force, tissue ballots, etc., we got tired ourselves, so we called a constitutional convention and we eliminated, as I have said, all of the colored people whem we could under the 14th and 15th amendments." With that frank but brutal statement ringing in the ears of the American people can they listen trustfully, respectfully or even patiently to the reading of the Kansas City platform with its cant about "the consent of the governed," with its statement that "any government not based upon the consent of the governed is tyranny, member the terrible excitement of the and that to impose upon any people a government of force is to substitute the methods of imperialism for those of a republic."

> Surely at this inspiring epoch there is service for the Republican party to render. It is no time for change or for experiment. During the splendid march of events of the past 40 years the Republican party has been trusted almost exclusively with the administration of the government. The record is made. It is an inspiring one, a record of progress and achievement, of confidence justified and never betrayed. The past we know. The future we face with confidence under leaders who have been tried and not found wanting. Let the Republican hosts then rally round the party standard, and press on to victory. The history of our party and the memory of our great leaders, living and dead, will inspire us as the contest goes on. Let the watchword be "Work"-work for honest money, for honest administration, for good times, for good government, for the of the people. Work for the triumphant election of McKinley and Roosevelt.

The Platform.

Hon. John L. Bates, chairman of the committee upon resolutions, reported the platform and moved its adoption. The document, which is somewhat lengthy, pledges the Republicans of the commonwealth to the support of President McKinley and his policy, views the situation in our foreign dependencies hopefully, predicts unusual trade for farm and manufactured products by reason of our aggressiveness in the East. eulogizes the practical administration of Governor Crane, denounces as seditious the Democratic cry of imperialism and as calamitous the heresies of free silver and a debased currency.

Colonel Melvin O. Adams made the speech nominating Governor Crane, and gentlemen, and there were no contests for the other state offices except for auditorship.

Likely to Remain In the North. St. John's, Oct. 8.-The failure of the Peary exploring steamer Windward to return from the north leads local observers to believe that the explorer will not attempt to get back this autumn. This would mean that he has made no special record during the present year.

Republican Representative convention Quincy. n Wednesday evening, no one can say that the nominees are the choice of the Republican voters of Quincy. The convention is quite as likely to nominate weak candidates as strong ones. The method is certainly defective, and should be discarded next year, and a direct caucus vote on all candidates substituted. It is the Republican voters of the city, and not any delegates, who should make the nominations where no outside towns are in Edmunds C. Jenney of Hyde Park the Democratic Candidate.

The First Norfolk Democratic Senatorial convention was held Saturday evening at Democratic headquarters, Quincy. The convention was called to order at eight o'clock by William T. Shea who read the call.

TO CALL CONVENTION.

Decisive Action Expected to Be Taken This Week by the Mine Workers.

Probability of Conferences With the Operators.

Sherifi Says Strikers Must Refrain From Marching or Take the Cousequences.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8 .- It is the general elief that President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers will at once issue a call for a convention of miners to con sider the offer of increased wages, to be held at Scranton, and the supposition is that Thursday next will be named as the time. Mr. Mitchell, however, declined to give publicity to the matters discussed himself and other officials of the or ganization at a secret conference yester ay at Hazleton, and he gave no inti tion as to when the convention will be This and other questions to b sidered at the convention are sup posed to have been fully discussed at yesterday's conference.

Indications are coming to the surfac reached on the question by the conven ion, and that recesses will be taker pending conference of the committee with the operators. These conference will be requested with the purpose of ob ining a clear understanding as to th permanency of the increased pay, if ac cepted, and also to ascertain the opera miners and mine laborers.

Sheriff Harvey of Luzon county ha reached the limit of his patience in regard to the marching of large bodies of men and the marchers must obey his re quest to remain within the pale of the law or take the consequences. It is ient with the crowds as he could possibl be and that the action of several men in running across the property of Calvin Pardee & Co. at Lattimer has had much hereafter.

Senator Gorman Intends to Fight In Behalf of Democratic Ticket.

Roosevelt and Bryan Put In a Day's Work In Illinois.

Ex-Senator Hill Talks to Democratic Gathering In Western Massachusetts.

Baltimore, Oct. 9.-The attractions at a Democratic mass meeting here last night, as announced, included Governor Stone of Missouri, former Senator Gorman of this state and other local orators. Chairman Smith introduced Mr. Richardson, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, who read to the assemblage a letter which had been received from Arthur P. Gorman, who, he said, was detained at home on a sick bed and prevented his attendance at this

After expressing regret at his inability to be present at the meeting Senator Gorman pledges his time and labor to assisting the state and national com mittees in organizing to oppose "the new and dangerous doctrines exploited by President McKinley in the acquisition and forcible occupation of the Philippine islands and their government as a

Senator Gorman goes on to say that the maintenance of enormous and unnecessary military machinery is one of the questions, and not the least import ant of them, to be decided by the American people next November. If that machinery be withdrawn we can no longer occupy territory thousands of miles distant, and govern against their will millions of people as to whose character publicans to make the currency question predominant will fail. That question was, four years ago, the logical product of conditions which no longer exist. The phenomenal addition made to the volume of gold since 1896, an amount equal to if not greater than, all the coin in circuation on the 1st of January of that year, removes the question from the domain of ontroversy. This condition, together with the immense balance of trade in our favor, has been brought about by hatural causes which the ingenuity and enterprise of our people have utilized. For the Republican party to claim it as the fruit of its virtuous and enlightened statesmanship is too preposterous for serious

Governor Stone was next introduced "The letter of the former senator from Maryland," he began, "is a complete answer to the calumnies that have been hurled against him. One blast from his bugle horn is worth 10,000 men, for it is no disparagement to any other leader of the Democracy of Maryland to say that this man stands pre-eminent, not only as one of the stalwart leaders of the state, but of the entire nation." Governor Stone discussed the issues of the courses. CANDIDATES AT CLOSE RANGE. Trains of Roosevelt and Bryan Were Held Up Side by Side For Orders.

St. Louis, Oct. 9 .- Governor Roosevelt last night concluded his campaign tour of Illinois, speaking in East St. Louis to the largest audience assembled there since the McKinley-Bryan campaign of four years ago.

Governor Roosevelt betrayed no token of weariness, notwithstanding he had state en route, the most notable of which was at Springfield. There the governor refrained from discussing for and such topics, devoting himself exclusively to the life achievements of Abraham Lincoln From Springfield to Jacksonville, Mrs Yates, wife of the candidate for governor of Illinois, enlivened the situation by riding in the engine cab and on arriving at her home city blew the whistle which signalled the presence of the Roosevel special. The crowd at this place was the largest that had greeted Governor Roosevelt, owing undoubtedly to the fact that Judge Yates, who lives in Jacksonville, was on the train.

Immediately south of East St. Louis the train was stopped for orders. Ar incident of interest transpired at this point. It was the arrival and stopping of Mr. Bryan's special train, northbound. immediately alongside the Roosevelt special. The Bryan train also had stopped for orders. The candidates did not see each other until their respective cars were passing slowly, but as they passed by recognized each other in the dim light from the car windows and each leaned forward and waved his hand is salutation.

That particular portion of Illinois known as Egypt was pretty thoroughly canvassed by Mr. Bryan yesterday. The principal cities of 11 of the southern counties of the state and three of the congressional districts were visited and large audiences addressed at the various Fourteen addresses were made from ? o'clock in the morning, when the first speech at Salem was delivered, until the train bearing the nominee and his party pulled out of Alton at nearly midnight, At every meeting the candidate was greeted with hearty demonstrations.

Senator Hill In N w England. North Adams, Mass., Oct. 9.-Ex-Senator Hill of New York was the principal speaker at the Democratic rally here last night. The announced purpose is that Cuba will be turned over to repulsed finally by the marchers, but not the Cubans to enjoy the fruits of independence. Yet it is proposed that we go to the other side of the world and take territory five times as large as Cuba, with six times as many people, and annex that territory to the United States. Republican Rat fications at Boston. Boston, Oct. 9 .- The Chickatawbut club, made up of stalwart Republicans, held its ratification of the national ticket last night. It was a rousing affair from the clubman's point of view. President Locklin did the honors at the head of the table, and in addition to his welcoming speech there was a symposium of politics from former Congressman Low of New York, Professor Williams of Brown university and the club treasurer Thomas N. Keenan. Predictions of the triumph of the Republican ticket brough out great enthusiasm. The Republican Editorial association also entertained prominent Republicans, and the speechmaking was vigorous and lengthy.

Fou Years' Successful Policy.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Senator Depew adressed a large audience of Republicans last night under the auspices of the Marquette club. The senator made a hit with his audience by declaring that Mr. Bryan did not deny the abundant prosperity of the country; he claimed it was ntoxicated with prosperity, and that if

Drift of Opinion.

According to the Gevernor of Vermont, the Auditor's office in that State is in a condition that calls aloud for reform. He points out how $30,000 W. French, Thomas M. Butler, William might be saved the first year by the adoption of methods to which he refers. This is a strange condition of affairs. We do not believe such a thing could be said about the office of Auditor in this Commonwealth. It is good thing, however, to occasionally have a shaking up in any department. The State has placed it in the statutes that the office of Treasurer shall not be held continuously for more than five years, and the law has so worked that Consisting of an 8-room House two baths. ### NEW SCHOOLHOUSE.

Many Quincy Point People Speak in Favor at Hearing.

In spite of the severe storm Quincy Point citizens turned out in goodly numbers Tuesday night to urge upon the City Council Committee on Public Buildings the necessity of a new school building in that ward. All were of one mind, and with one exception all favored the present site. Fred H. Smith, the resident member of the School Board, said that the ventilation and light of the present building were bad, and the number accommodated was up to the limit. He brought the matter before the School Board two years ago. At that time owing to the crowded condition of the ask the Council- to purchase land in the Ward Two district and take care of the Lincoln first.

Since then there has been a great change at Quincy Point. Several large purchases of land have been made, and he had been informed that between now and April the new industry would employ 2,500 men, many of whom would reside here and have children who would have to be accommodated. There were now 330 children in the Washington school which was all that could be taken care of. The School ommittee had decided on no location. Two years ago North street was thought the best site, but now he thought that the present site was the place. If there was not land enough, there was the Federhen lot on one side and two lots in the rear that could be Ex-Representative T. H. Newcomb said it goes without saying, that a Only 75c. each. new building is needed very badly. The present building was the third built upon the lot, and was built forty years ago. It was now a regular fire trap. The stairways were dark, and if a fire got started it would be a miracle if the children got out. The present location under existing circumstances was the most desirable. Supt. Parlin said he considered the needs of the district the most pressing of the present time. The physical conditions under which the children who attend this school are placed are very inferior; the ventilation was very bad, and the light is bad. As to location some foresight should be used so that when the time comes to erect another building this will not be out of place.

A conservative estimate of the number of new children that the new plant of new c would bring, was 250, and this some raigned in the district court at Quincy onsider too small. The need of a new building is imperative.

Tendency of Today Is to a Minimum of Profits and a Maximum of Wages.

Debts For Manufacturer and Bank Deposits For Labor.

Interesting Address on Industrial Combinations From Capitalists' Point of View.

Chicago, Oct. 10 .- At the autumn dinner of the Illinois Manufacturers' as- fortress commander. sociation at the Grand Pacific hotel last night, Charles R. Flint of New York was the principal speaker. His remarks evoked frequent applause.

Mr. Flint said that in the evolution of ndustrial life one of the first steps was to subdivide production into trades. Later, those engaged in the same trade formed partnerships, then corporations and finally consolidations of corpora-

"The tendency of modern trade is toward consolidation, because the administration of the largest masses is the cheapest. Centralized manufacture permits the highest development of special machinery and processes. The factory running full time, on large volume, reduces the percentage of overhead charges. Direct sales on a large scale minimize the cost of distribution. Centralization of manufacture and distribuion reduce aggregate stocks, and there fore save in the shop wear, storage, insurance and interest. Consolidated mangement results in the raising and fixing f the standards of quality, the best tandards being adopted; in avoiding waste and financial embarrassment through every production, in less loss by bad debts through comparisons of credit, he was only a tool in the plot. and in securing the advantages of comparative accounting and comparative ad ministration. "The question which most interests us is whether the advantages of prosperity are equally divided among the contribators to it, namely capital, superinendence and labor.

Having considered the first two in eneral, Mr. Flint spoke of the third conbution, labor, as follows: "It is a fundamental fact that the man superior ability cannot accumulate for nself without giving to the wage earnre, and it is always an increasing are. The tendency is today to a minium of profits and to a maximum of ages. When profits become abnorma ney invite competition, and are immeditely reduced, in which case the consumg world is benefited solely. If they are ot sufficiently abnormal to invite competition, then labor demands a larger share of the profit, in the form of increased wages, and it is either volunarily or necessarily agreed to; in which ease the body of wage earners reap the advantage. And, inasmuch as the body f wage earners is the great body of the ommunity, it necessarily reaps the adantage in any case. Employes know almost as promptly as do the employers whether a mill is earning an extravagant profit. If it be, they at once demand and the employer evitably does succumb. It is thus that vages always tend to a maximum and profit into a minimum.

"The wage earner of the United States re today employing a higher standard of living and a larger measure of welling than wage earners have ever be re employed in the history of the world. They are the real money power. The railroad managers have rails and rolling tock: the miner has mines: the manucturer has bricks, mortar and machinery, and most of them have debts nd many are mortgaged to the banks or savings; but the wage earners in the nited States have on deposit in cash in ne savings bank, subject to call, $2,500,- Speaking of the financial situation, Mr. lint said: "When all doubt is forever emoved as the perpetuity of our gold tandard, and no doubt possible as to the nanner of selecting a supreme court, to which we must look for the enforcement our national obligations as written in rms of gold, the American eagle will evitably become the unit of internaonal exchange in place of the English

The governor was tired, having ridden in a parade given in the afternoon. Later he attended a luncheon given by the St. Louis club. He was escorted from a nounted regiment and several thousand citizens in carriages or on foot. The route of the night parade was illuminated by flambeaux and colored fire.

Bryan Says Illinois Will Go Democratic. Joliet, Ills., Oct. 10 .- Mr. Bryan concluded the last speech of the day here last night at a few minutes before 11 o'clock. He began at 8 o'clock in the morning and made 16 addresses during the day. The audiences were generally large, but those at Peoria, Quincy and Joliet were especially so. Mr. Bryan expressed the opinion that Illinois would be found in the Democratic column after the next election. Today he begins his years old. tour of Michigan.

Thousands of striking miners marche Scranton yesterday, and showed the lovalty to the cause for which they have been battling for several weeks. The welcome to National President Mitche was an exceedingly flattering one.

REPLY TO PROPOSALS

Submitted by France For Consideration by United States Government.

In Full Accord on Many of the Important Questions.

President Reserves Expression of Opinion or Matters Pertaining to the Military.

Washington, Oct. 12.-Following is the text of the reply of the state department to the French note relative to the bases of Chinese negotiations:

The government of the United States agrees with that of France in recognizng as the object to be obtained from the government of China appropriate reparation for the past, and substantia guarantees for the future.

The president is glad to perceive i he bases of negotiations put forward in the memorandum of Oct. 4 the spir that has animated the declarations he tofore made by all the powers interes and would be pleased to see the negotia tions begun immediately upon the us verification of credentials.

PIGS! It may be convenient to enume the classes of the memorandum, and to add some observations dictated by the attitude of the United States in the presircumstances.

2-The continuance of the interdiction against the importation of arms.

It is not understood that this interdi on is to be permanent, and the dura tion of it and the details of its regulation seem a proper subject of discussion by the negotiators. 3-Equitable indemnities for the governments, corporations and private in dividuals. This is an object desired by all the powers. The Russian government has suggested that in case of protracted divergence of views, this matter mighbe commended to the consideration the international court of arbitration o The Hague. The president thinks this suggestion worthy the attention of the

The government of the United States is unable to make any permanent engagement of this nature without the authorization of the legislative branch, but in the present emergency we have sta-tioned in Pekin an adequate legation 5-The dismantling of the forts a

The president reserves the expressions of his opinion as to this measure pending the receipt of further information in regard to the stuation in China. 6-The military occupation of two or three points on the road from Tientsin The same observation which has been made in reference to No. 4 applies t this proposition. The president is unable to commit the United States to a permanent participation in such occupa tion, but he thinks it desirable that the powers shall obtain from the Chinese government the assurance of their right to guard their legations in Pekin and to have the means of unrestricted acces o them whenever required.

The president believes that the government of France and the other powers will see in the reserves we have here made no obstacle to the initiation of negotiations on the lines suggested, and he hopes it will be found practicable to be-Pure Vinegar, gin such negotiations at an early date.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY-NOT A MATTER OF CHANCE

EVERY WOMAN HAS AN OPPORTUNITY TO WIN A LARGE PRIZE. THERE ARE NO BLANKS.

THE DELINEATOR, the Magazine of Fashion well known for a generation, celebrates the dawn of the new century-the year 1901-by offering 1901 prizes ranging from $500 to $5.00 to 1901 women. Total of prizes, $17,500. Prizes will be awarded, not to those sending the largest number of subscriptions to THE DELINEATOR, but to those sending the largest number in proportion to the population of each town in which they are secured. The woman living in the smallest town has just as good a chance to win a large prize as the woman living in a city.

To this end all towns and cities in the United States and Canada are divided into seven classes, according to population:

CLASS ONE includes all cities of 200,000 inhabitants or over. In this class there are 28 prizes to be given away, the highest being $500, the lowest $5.00.

CLASS TWO includes all cities from 50,000 to 200,000 inhabitants. In this class there are 133 prizes to be given away, the highest being $400, the lowest $5.00.

CLASS THREE includes all cities from 30,000 to 50,000 inhabitants. In this class there are 208 prizes to be given away, the highest being $350, the lowest $5.00.

CLASS FOUR includes all cities from 10,000 to 30,000 inhabitants. In this class there are 257 prizes to be given away, the highest being $300, the lowest $5.00. there are 257 prizes to be given away, the highest being $300, the lowest $5.00. People should be careful how they leave their front door unlocked, even The marriage of Miss Mamie Pratt if they are about the house, as there are sneak thieves about. One of these sly rascals entered the house of Charles Stanley on Granite street just before noon on Thursday. The front door was unlocked and the family were in the rear of the house. The fellow went up stairs and opening a desk secured a pocketbook containing $4.50. He was evidently in a hurry, for he overlooked a diamond ring, a gold bracelet and other articles of value.

The money was not missed until several hours later, when upon inquiring it was learned from the neighbors that they saw a man approach the house and enter the front door. He carried a bundle in his hand and wore a light colored overcoat, light colored soft hat and dark pants.

THE LITTLE MADEMOISELLE.

A SAD END TO AN AFFAIR OF LOVE.

Thus it is that Mme. de Gouville, the wife of Captain Roger de Gouville, told me what she knew of little Lieutenant Yves Barnabe de Pelven, whose chum I had been at St. Cyr and whom I had never seen after we left the college. It was in 1871. Our regiment was then at the village of F---, a few miles from the provisional frontier. The town lay in the midst of a forest and had been partly destroyed during the war. We lived in wooden barracks that had been built by the Germans. Not far away was the line of black and white posts that marked the provisional frontier, and it was one of our pastimes to ride out to them. The young officers dreamed of nothing but the chance of provoking a frontier conflict. Some made targets of the pointed helmets found and brought in by the peasants, arranging matters so as others galloped wildly across the line and back again.

One of them, however, Yves de Pelven de Kerdec, took no share in these pleasantries. When he was asked to join in, he would shrug his shoulders softly and murmur, "Childishness!" He was left to do as he pleased. No one cared. Only after awhile we discovered that he was accustomed to take long solitary rides at night and in a direction that did not lead to France! We began to watch him more from curiosity than from suspicion. I myself, I confess, was drawn toward him by this original and mysterious mode of existence

He was then a slight, blond, pale youth, feminine of features, all nerve and muscle, tireless, fearless, silent. He was liked by the men, although they were a trifle jealous of that indefinable superiority which marked his breeding. Some of the old veterans of swarthy skin and voice loved him in spite of his refinement. They called him "Mlle. de Pelven," or "the little mademoiselle.

With five years of service to his credit he had still the air of a young conscript. His voice was gentle. I never heard him yell or curse the men or horses. At 19 he had received a decoration for distinguished bravery at Re

Prices have not gone character: we discussed his fortune and the employment of his time outside of the service, for, besides his regular appearance twice a day at mess, he took part in none of our entertainments. He was often seen alone, galloping his horses over the green meadows of the Saone. He rode in some of the impromptu races, winning often, but without pride, without exultation, taking the things as part of the trade. He never touched cards. His horses, his dogs, seemed his sole distraction. At times he disappeared for a week or so and on returning would say, "My father was down to see me." It was known that he had a father, an old man living in Bretagne. Yves spoke of him only on those days.

The self isolation of the boy was somewhat of a mystery to us. Each one explained in his own way the singular comrade, "the little mademoiselle." For some Pelven was the son of a Galician princess and a Knight of the landeau. Malta, which was not impossible, it being the usage since the days of Louis XIV to accord that title to French gentlemen having contracted a marital alliance in Austria. In fact, Austrian decorations had been seen in his room. That, at least, was affirmed by some of the indiscreet ones who had penetrated the great chamber where he was wont to "dig" on his strategy during the warm hours of day. A singular room it was-at once salon, library and saddlery, the refuge of a thinker and the handy shop of a soldier, but its interior, in spite of the weapons, was rather feminine, and this struck the inferior officers who were accustomed to visit it with their reports. There were always fresh flowers in his room, and one day, when some inquisitive spirit explored the pockets of his "dolman," which he had cast off during a fencing bout, they discovered a golden locket on which sparkled a strange little diamond wing. They did not succeed in

"He is a sentimentalist," Commandant St. Perle would say, "and the proof is that when one passes his cottage in the evening one hears him playing the adagio of Beethoven's sonata in A flat, the sonata of monks and priests."

One morning my husband, the captain, came in very much worried. I questioned him. No answer. He drove away in his phaeton as soon as breakfast was over with several other offlcers. He returned at 8 o'clock alone, having left the others at the club. After dinner he held a conference with the fencing master and the chief armorer; then St. Perle, his friend, came and him order the landeau with the big van-horses for 3 o'clock in the morning. "Ah," said I to myself, "a duel! And I suppose that they will fight at Delle." This spot lay on the other side of the frontier, and experience had taught me that such affairs usually took place there.

Toward 10 o'clock the party returned. Another conference took place in my husband's study. I heard the brusque voice of St. Perle, the gentle voice of De Pelven; a bell rang; I heard my husband call for grog, port me and ice; then the hours passed, d silence reigned.

I remained awake, very curious. At 2 Roger came into my room in full uniform and cloak. I did not question him, for I knew that he would not answer. When it was he that was about to fight, he would always tell me brusquely. This had happened three times in our ten months of married life. Like a curious child, I peered from behind the blinds and saw them start off. There were St. Perle, Roger, Pelven and the surgeon. "Who is to fight?" I thought. "It must be Pelven, for St. Perle would not take an inferior in rank for second.

Finally I went to bed, nervous and worried. Morning broke. I rose late, feeling bereft of all my friends. I wandered through the house. I entered the study, hung with skins, oriental rugs, panoplied with weapons. On the blackboard I saw some half erased sen-I opened the curtain, and there, in the bitter atmosphere of cold tobacco smoke, in this almost sinister disorder of a room where people have the half obliterated marks. I wandered about all day, oppressed, feverish. You know yourself that Pelven was killed. Roger came back that night in its sincerity. I was a free silver alone and grieved.

Who was the adversary of De Pelven? An officer? Yes. Who? I will I had unlimited confidence in Bryan and not tell you. Only a few knew, and the secret has been well kept. The reason of the duel? Talking thus, we came back to the rendezvous. There we found Louis de Rolk, one of my friends, whose castle, although in France, yet touches the frontier. We questioned him about "What, don't you know?" he answered. "That is the Princess of Burgfeld, with her 'dame de compagnie.' She is of dancing in Paris, as she generally does in the spring. It is said that during the war she had a romance, a delicious romance, with a French lieutenant whose name I could never learn. They had sworn eternal fidelity. I don't know what has happened since, but she now lives in solitude and will enter a convent at Mannheim on her twenty-fifth birthday unless she gets out of her sentimentalisms, which is not patriotic from the German point of view, for she is the daughter of one of the first generals of the empire." He said no more, but we understood. Poor Pelven! That was the explanation of those long nocturnal rides, taken at the risk of the sentinels' bullets: that was the meaning of that sequestrated life, of the golden locket, with its wing-symbol of his ethereal love, fitful and fragile; that was the reason for that life of mystery, poetry and silence, the roses in the cottage, the adagio of Beethoven and the duet, which finished it all. "We are confronted in this campaign with two issues, of which our opponents say one is paramount and the other is mmediate. Mr. Olney does not offer any clearer or nore assuring policy for the Philippines than Mr. Bryan. He neglects to support Mr. Bryan's policy, possibly for the very good reason that as compared with the declared policy of Mr. McKinley it does not commend itself to the prefernce of the American people. #### CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. Topic.-Paul the missionary; the secret of his success.—II Tim. iv, 1-8. (Quarterly missionary meeting.)

Paul was the first and greatest missionary the world has ever had. He preached the gospel on two continents, he stood before kings and slaves, he persuaded philosophers and peasants and was remarkable in establishing a large number of strong and vigorous churches in the principal cities of his day. Awaiting the end of his life he seeks to inspire Timothy to a faithful ministry by an appeal to his own faithfulness and by the prospect of the splendid reward which he has immediately in view. Paul's example should inspire all missionaries of the cross, and the secret of his great success is worthy our most careful and earnest study. It is not hard to find. The distinguishing characteristics of this eminent apostle, which crowned his labors with success, stand out prominently in his long and eventful career and may be read and known of all men. In firm reliance upon God he threw his whole being into his work, stopping at no sacrifice, not even at the sacrifice of his life, and success came. It will come to all who emulate his example in these respects.

1. Paul was successful because he was guided by the Holy Ghost. The Holy Ghost called Paul to his important office and work, and no man ever placed himself more completely under the control of the Spirit than did Paul. Where the Spirit said "Go," he went. Where the Spirit said "Stay," he staid. His was a Spirit filled and a Spirit directed life. Such lives will be success ful in missionary work.

2. Paul was successful because he believed his message. Paul's faith was intense. It was burned into his very being. He kept the faith whether facing kings or subjects, Jews or gentiles, life or death. Faith is an essential ele ment in missionary success. We must have faith before we can have con-

3. Paul was successful because of his ability to adapt himself to all men and to all classes and conditions of life. He was all things to all men in a noble and lofty sense. To the Jews he was a Jew, to the weak he was weak, to the strong he was strong. He adapted himself to all people with whom he came in contact, that he might win them to Christ. Adaptability to the life of those with whom we labor is absolutely essential to missionary success.

4. Paul's earnestness contributed to his success. As earnestly as the contestant strove in the games or the runner ran in the race, so he labored zealously and untiringly in the cause which he loved. We must not only strive, agonize to be saved ourselves, but must throw this same spirit into our efforts to lead others to Christ if we would be successful.

5. Paul's self denial was an element in his success. Paul sacrificed all for Christ's cause-home, country, personal ambitions, cherished beliefs, comforts, One day we all started on a drag party all faith in Bryan and his doctrines I and at last life itself. No missionary or missionary worker ever succeeded without a spirit of self denial, unless he was willing even to be offered up for Christ's sake.

Body and Soul. The man's constitution, body and soul are wonderfully united. In the fall both came under the power of sin and death. In redemption deliverance has been provided for both. He that believes with the heart comes with the body to be baptized. It is a token that the whole exterior physical life is to be his too. We need to be on the watch lest the pursuit of the inner life leads "Four years ago a revolutionary party us to neglect the external. A heart sprinkled with blood, a body washed with pure water from every stain, these God has joined together. Let no man separate them. Our body is very specially the temple of the Holy Spirit. In the body the Father is to be glorified. Like Christ, we must yield our body with every member, every power, every action, to fulfill His will, to be offered up to Him, to glorify Him. Through the body satan conquered in paradise. In the body he tempted Christ. Our eating and drinking, our sleeping, our clothing, our labor and relaxation, these things have more influence on our spiritual life than we know .- Andrew Murray.

Workers For Civilization.

I wish it were in my power to convey my experience to those people-often well meaning people-who speak about the inefficacy of foreign missions. I think if they really could realize but a tenth part of the work that is being done and the work that has been done they would realize that no more practical work, no work more productive of fruit for civilization, could exist than that work being carried on by the men and women who give their lives to preach the gospel of Christ to mankind-the men and women who not only have preached, but have done; who have made action follow pledge, performance square with promise .-Governor Roosevelt.

"Another question is how we are to deal with the people of the Philippine islands. I have stated my total dissent from the policy which was adopted in the Spanish treaty of 1899. I have declared that my hope for the ultimate triumph of justice and righteousness and iberty, as I understood them in this matter, was in the Republican party and nowhere else. I have never said one thing without saying the other Both these propositions I stand by today. in the past, William J. Bryan is as releft the hands of the president. It was he who stabbed the cause of anti-imperialism in the back in the hour of its assured victory. The defeat of the treaty was as sure, as it seemed, as the rising of tomorrow's sun, with many of the wisest and most experienced lead-rs of the Democracy. "They tell us the tariff is not an issue in this campaign. But when Mr. Bryan issue of the Harvard Republican, to be comes to talk of trusts, he makes the issued weekly at Harvard college, conremedy is, in substance, to put the whole protective policy of the country in the vote for McKinley, five for Bryan and one power of any corrupt trust, great or for a third party. Thirteen are undesmall, that may choose to assail it. 1 have never heard of a single practical suggestion to prevent these gross monop olies from any Democratic quarter. I think that the laws of trade will over throw them sooner or later. They have so far, in general, proved unprofitable to the men who have engaged in them. The American people will outgrow them and will find the way to deal with them. "There is but one danger. That comes from agitators like Mr. Bryan, who would destroy alike the security of property, the protection of the courts and the sanctity of laws. That danger will pass by and disappear.

If that course had been pursued, we should, in my judgment, have had the presidential election almost without a struggle. But thinknever doubted the integrity and patriotic purpose of a large majority of the Re publican party in both houses of conress. It never occurred to me to withdraw my confidence in them, whom I have known through and through, in and out, for more than 30 years, and transfer it to Mr. Bryan and Mr. Croker and the leaders of the white Democracy of the south. My relations with President McKinley have remained unchanged and unbroken

"Our question is now for the future. I can find no substantial difference when we come to any practical declaration of purpose, between the two candidates of the two parties on that question. In general, both parties say they mean to give the Philippine islands self-government as soon as they are ready for it

"There are undoubtedly many persons In the Republican party who have been carried away by the dream of empire. They mean, I have no doubt, to hold on to the Philippine islands forever. But they do not constitute the strength of the party. The Republican party in its platform, state and national, promise to give these people self-government when they are ready for it, and as fas as they are ready for it.

"I have an abiding confidence that these pledges are to be kept. I believe Ag-

But General Harrison Thinks Administration Wrong on Some Questions.

Says Full Dinner Bucket Is Not a Sordid Emblem.

Still Holds His Views of Four Years Ago In Opposition to the D. mocratic Party.

New York, Oct. 11.-Ex-President Benjamin Harrison last night gave out a statement in which he says:

"In 1896. I submbitted myself to work very hard, and then made up my mind that I would do no more campaigning Few men have made more speeches for their party than I have and no expresident, I am sure, has made so many, Since I left Washington my retirement from all participation in party manage-

ENNJAMIN HARRISON Regarding the report that he was not altogether in accord with his party, General Harrison said: "The only public utterance I have made in criticism of the policies of the party was contained in one rather short sentence that I gave to the newspapers while the Porto Rican bill was pending. It was, in substance, that I regarded the bill as a grave departure from right principles. I still think so. I do not believe that the egislative power of congress in the territories is absolute, and I do believe that the revenue clause relating to duties and imposts applies to Porto Rico. This is a legal question which the po litical departments of the government cannot fully adjudge. The final and controlling word upon this question is with the supreme court of the United States. Cases involving the question are, I understand, pending, and a decision, in which we all must acquiesce, cannot be much longer deferred. think, therefore, that voters ought to vote with a view to the right decision of those questions that are directly and finally in the coutrol of the president

"The general reasons I gave in 1896 why Mr. Bryan should not be elected still hold good with me. His election business affairs into confusion. We should not aid the election of a president who would, admittedly, if he could, destory the gold standard and other thing ceptive suggestion that he has been bound and that the Republican party will, after defeat, still have strength enough to save the temple. It will be much better not to allow the man with destructive tendencies so much as to lean against its pillars."

General Harrison then gave this extract from his speech of 1898:

" 'When we have a president who believes that it is neither his right nor his duty to see that the mail trains are no obstructed, and that interstate commerce has its free way, irrespective of state lines, and courts that fear to use their ancient and familiar writs to re strain and punish lawbreakers, free trade and free silver will be appropriate accompaniments of such an administration and cannot add appreciably to the national distress or the national dis-ministration-succeeding a period of great depression. A change of adminstration this fall would almost certainly renew conditions from which we have so happily escaped. The full dinner bucket is not a sordid emblem. It has a spiritual significance for the spiritually ninded. It means more comfort for the wife and family, more schooling and less work for the children, and a margin of saving for sickness and old age.'

Stones Thrown at Roosavelt,

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 11.-Governo Roosevelt closed a busy day's work by making three speeches in this city last night, addressing the greatest number of persons in the aggregate who ever have gathered in Fort Wayne to listen to political candidate. On Calhoun street, shortly before the head of the procession reached the place where the governor was to speak, a party of roughs on the sidewalk threw a shower of stones at Governor Roosevelt's carriage One struck Governor Roosevelt on the shoulder, and another struck Curtis Guild of Boston in the face. The governor was not hurt, and laughed the matter off. The horses attached to the governor's earriage were whipped up, and got away pration was followed up last night by a from the roughs, who offered no further violence and used no insulting language

Day of Open Air Meetings. Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 11.-The weather for the first day of Mr. Bryan's tour of Michigan was all that could be asked. He made 16 addresses from first to last, and all but one of the meetings were held in the open air. The country traversed was varied in character, including the famous Michigan celery belt, the scarcely less famous peach country, THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Coal Strike Remains a Restraining Factor. Shoe Trade Is Brightening Up. New York, Oct. 13 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s

weekly review of trade says: More seasonable weather had important influence throughout the country, but the coal strike continued as the testraining factor in business. As speculation every where is on a small scale, the effect is minimized. Lower prices recently for some iron products have been without disturbing force, and the firmer market for print cloth and strong quotations for lumber show that in some directions in the great industries a small increase in demand is capable of raising prices. The situation still promises a recovery when politics and the strike are settled. Fear of tight money has made some men hesitate, but higher rates result from the activity of the movement of cotton at high prices in the south. At the moment the movement of gold from Europe has tended to relieve the tension in New York, and gold is still coming from Australia.

Much disappointment was apparent among cotton traders when the official crop report appeared, for the anticipation of a gloomy report had put the price up to 11 cents. When the statement indicated a point improvement in Texas in September prices dropped sharply. Wheat also declined without the aid of a government report. Domestic conditions are generally satisfactory, and foreign crop news cheerful. Corn remains steady in the face of the decline in condition.

Shipments of boots and shoes from Boston at the rate of 88,415 weekly mean the most active business since April, and exceed the heavy forwardings of last year. Improvement is general, with orders from all parts of the country and frequent requests for immediate ship-These signs that excessive accumulations have become distributed are encouraging.

Failures for the week were 223 in the United States, against 164 last year.

It is believed, however, to take a fa vorable view of the suggestion submitted by the French government, in a general way, although it does not commit this government to all of them. The infer ence is general that, while approving the spirit of the note in the main, our gov ernment will set aside as unwise to cor sider for the moment the three particulars concerning permanent guards a the legations, the razing of the forts and the prohibition of the importation of firearms. These, being in the natur of guarantees for the future mainte nance of peace, might be left to the peace commissioners when they meet. The also, as military measures in a foreign country, involve the constitutional prerogratives of the president and congress, and on that ground satisfactory reprerogratives of the president and congress sentations could be made to the French government as to the embarrassment which might ensue if we accepted them as they stand. This will expedite the movement towards peace negotiations.

Indeed, the only thing which now seems to stand in the way of the return of the Chinese court to Pekin and the opportunity to set the joint commission at work is China's fear of Germany, fear which is accenuated by the way Von Waldersee has settled himself down at Pekin and the continued hostile operations of the German soldiers in the interior. The Times also publishes Dr. Morrison's mail accounts of the events that led up to the siege of Pekin. He says that the Boxers only became important after the German occupation of Kiao Chou. The Chinese were ascribing the disastrous drouth and famine with other troubles to the judgment of heaven for the usurpation of the empress dowager.

She seized upon the Boxer movement according to Dr. Morrison, as a means of diverting popular wrath from herself to the foreigners and appointed Yu Hsien, founder of the Boxer sect, to be governor of Shan Tung, in March, Thus, under imperial protection the Boxers preached the doctrine that it was the foreigners and not the empress dowager who had aroused the vrath of the gods.

As if in answer to the Boxers came he anti-foreign outrages, culminating in the destruction of the railway station at Feng Tai. The long-awaited rains came on May 28, and were regarded as a sign of the direct sanction of the higher owers to the work of the Boxers.

Three days later extra foreign guards for the legations arrived. The Boxers became increasingly audacious, and things went from bad to worse, until the legations were ordered to quit Pekin, and Baron Von Ketteler was killed. There is not a shadow of doubt but that his murder was deliberately planned by the authorities, and executed by an officer resplendent in the uniform of the imperial troops.

The star act of the Keith show for the weel ommencing Oct. 15 will be a one-act revoluonary play entitled "Trenton," which will be acted by John W. Albaugh and company. A Philadelphia critic speaking of its performance at the local Keith house said: "For the reason that it possesses the merits of brevity, directness and an effective finish, 'Trenton' may be more of a success than any short play of its timber that has preceded it as a feature of a miscelaneous program." Earl Li Expresses Desire For Speedy Peace Negotiations.

Another Large Slice of Manchuria Has Fallen Into the Hands of Russia.

London, Oct. 15 .- The Standard publishes mail advices from Tientsin giving a list of 54 documents that were seized in the yamen of the viceroy after the capture of the city and fell into the hands of the correspondents before the military authorities had seized the yamen. These include receipts of money paid to Boxer generals for supplies to their troops of every kind, reports of actions and lists of casualties and rewards paid to generals and the families of the killed, all clearly proving that the authorities maintained the Boxer movement by lavish expenditures.

A disaptch, dated Pekin, Oct. 12, says: Li Hung Chang began to make his formal calls upon the legations today. This afternoon he visited the British and American representatives. It is asserted, says the Shanghai corespondent of The Times, wiring yesterlay, that the Russians have seized the Niu-Chwang railway at the terminus of the Shan--Hai-Kwan line. This is the first step the Russians have taken on the right bank of the Amur. The Russian southern and northern armies have joined hands at Tohling, north of Mukden, theheby placing all of Manchuria east of the river Liao and a portion west of the stream in the hands of Russia. The Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post describes four distinct agitations-in Kwang-Tung, Kwang-Si Sze-Chuan and the Yang-Tse region—all of which are anti-dynastic rather than anti-foreign. If Sun Yat Sen is successful in the south, says the correspond ent, "and his rebellion spreads over the Yang-Tse region, he will probably be aided by Prince Tuan, Tung Fu Hsiang and the Mohammedan leaders in the northwest. The Chinese imperial troops, according to a dispatch to The Daily Chronicle from Hong Kong, have re-captured Wei Chou, on East river, where Sun Yat Sen, the reformer, had raised his flag, and have scattered the rebels.

From Canton it is reported that the Kwang-Si rebels have defeated the imperial troops on the borders of Kwang Tung, and that General Su has resigned in con equence of his request for reinforcements being ignored. Some Chinese soldiers desecrated the cemetery for foreigners at Nam-Shih-Tu, near Canton, and the viceroy had the offenders decapitated and dismissed

NEW SCHEDULE OF WAGES Threatens to Make Trouble For Contractors Who Are to Build Wachusett Dam. Clinton, Mass., Oct. 15 .- McArthur,

Winston & Locker, the Chicago contractors, begun their $2,000,000 contract today with the metropolitan water board for the construction of the Wachusett Even at the start by the contractors, there is a prospect of labor For about three months past the met-

These men have been paid 1, 1900, the polling places for the election to be $1.50 for nine hours' work. The prospect of trouble arises from the announcement in the posted notices that the contractors will pay 131/2 cents an hour for 10 hours' work, or $1.35 a day. Incidentally, the contractors say they can get all the men they can use at that fifure.

His body was found, face down, in the street. A man named Butler, who drives an ice eart, says that Williams rode to Melrose with him. Suddenly he complained of feeling ill, and jumped out of the wagon, then falling to the ground. Butler says he stopped his horses and found Williams Butler was trying to move the body when an officer came.

Must Serve Out His Sentence.

Washington, Oct. 16.-The supreme court of the United States yesterday denied the petition for a writ of certiorari street. to the circuit court of appeals of the first circuit submitted in behalf of William S. Jewett of Andover, Mass., who was found guilty of misapplication of funds while agent in liquidation of the Lake National bank of Wolfboro, N. H. was referred to the next City Council. As a result of the verdict in the lower court Jewett was sentenced to serve a term of seven years' imprisonment. The judgment of the lower court was affirmed by the circuit court of appeals, and an effort made to get the case before the supreme court on a writ of certiorari.

Mr. Flint and Grace Marion Flint are at Music hall tonight,

BRIDGE. HUMAN

Two remarkable things were done at Music Hall last night. A stone weighing over 200 pounds was placed on the breast of a hypnotic subject whose head and heels rested on the backs of two chairs. A man then took a sledge hammer and struck the stone as hard as he could but it was not hard enough to suit Mr. Flint, so another tried and he certainly struck some terrific blows. Big chips of stone began to fly all over the theatre and though the subject did not move a muscle it was too dangerous for the audience and so was stopped. Then four men were picked out and one by one stepped on the sleeping subject till there was this human bridge only supported by his head and heels hold up 599 pounds !!! Both tests were done in such a manner that all who were present could not but feel they were genuine.

Aside from this as new subjects often do not lend themselves readily to hypnotic influence, comparatively little was done. Several were made so they could not speak-could not shut their hands-could not help stuttering, etc., but this took so long that it was not possible to give anything like the entertainment that will be given tonight. Tonight the same subjects have promised to come again and a most curious and laughable entertainment can be expected.

Mr. Flint has brought here dozens and dozens of costumes-some for those to whom he will suggest a cake walk-some for a skirt dance-some for circus clowns, etc., etc., and is now ready to give an elaborate performance brim full of fun.

The great 24 hour cataleptic sleep will be begun tonight at Music Hall. The subject will then be put in John H. Gillis's store window and after sleeping there all through the night and all through the next day will be brought back to Music Hall, We inesday evening and awakened.

The Flints want the people of Quincy to realize what really wonderful and laughable things they can do. They know that if you come tonight you will come again and so on-Any of the ladies tickets will with 15 cents, be good for a 50 cent seat.

Anyone who will cut out and bring this advertisement can get a 50 cent seat for 15 cents.

Operators Argue Against Time Limit and Arbitration of Grievances.

Declaration That "We Have Nothing to Confer About."

Miners Asked Not to Pay Attention to Petitions Asking Them to Resume Work.

Philadalphia, Oct. 16 .- Although the miners throughout the coal region are fairly confident that their proposal for a settlement of the strike will be accepted, there is quite a different feeling among the operators. The Yorktown and two smaller gunboats, carrying two companies of the Thirtyeighth volunteer infantry, in addition to their regular crews, were sent to Marinduque in command of Colonel G. S. Anderson, Thirty-eighth volunteer infantry, with instructions to move relentlessly until Shields' party were rescued. Subsequently General MacArthur informed son had been unable to get any news of the Shields party, and that he had sent the First infantry, under command of Colonel Hare, to his assistance. He is a resident of Natchez, Msis., where his wife now lives. Marinduque is about 24 miles in diameter, and was garrisoned by two small detachments of United States troops. Goebel quoted Youtsey as saying that he had received the key of the room of the secretary of state from John Powers after which he went to Governor Taylor, who told him that while he had expected the shooting, he objected to such important work being done by a negro. A second time, Youtsey told Goebel, he went to the governor and told him that Jim Howard, the man who would do the shooting, was in the city. At that time Governor Taylor, after some discussion, "Well, tell them to go ahead." said: He further said that he would, if necessary, pardon the man who did the shoot-

The Hostilius sailed from East London, South Africa, on Sept. 27 for Key West. On Oct. 2 the propeller shaft of the steamer broke. Being unable to effect repairs, Captain Lewis decided to send to the nearest port for assistance. The first officer and a portion of the crew volunteered to undertake the voyage, and arrived here yesterday. The British cruiser Indefatigable proceeded immediately to find the disabled vessel, and will render all assistance possible to get her to port where repairs can be made. The Hostilius is a fine new steamer.

They indulged in cat calls and sarcastic remarks, Mr. Dowie responded vigorously, describing them as "English cowards" and "Hooligans," and finally thundering: "You are incited to this by your teachers, who fear that faith healing will ruin their profession." After a scene lasting sev eral minutes the students retired.

"Thirteen years ago I was wounded by a ball passing through my lung. I have had a bad cough almost ever since, with shortness of breath, and it was very easy to take cold; the slightest change of weather would cause the cough to be so bad I would have to sit up in bed all night. Could not eat or sleep at times; was all run down; could not work at all. A few months ago I began using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Have not used more than two bottles, and now can eat, sleep, and work, and I feel like a new man. Strikers Were Blocked In Their March on the Panther Creek Valley.

An Unexpected Meeting With Troops on the Road.

Disparsed Without Accomplishing Anything and Without Disorder.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 17.-Considerable anxiety for the end of the coal strike is being shown by all concerned. The strikers believe that the end is near, and so do the operators, but their theories are not based on exactly the same reayield some points.

Several of them were hurt side Hazleton region during the night EARN for the Panther creek valley, where they xpected to close all of the 10 collieries of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company, but just as the weary marchers vere nearing their destination they were net on a mountain road by three comanies of infantry, and at the point of the bayonet were driven back four miles to Tamaqua and dispersed.

The presence of the soldiers was entirely unexpected, and the strikers vere much crestfallen that they failed n accomplishing the object of their long

It was probably the most exciting norning that the Panther creek and the Nesquehoning valleys have ever witnessed. Strikers were scattered all over the various roads, and companies of oldiers were scurrying in all directions heading off the marching men. The troops were patient with the mobs of strikers, while the labor men were very careful not to commit overt acts in the presence of the troops. For a moment ust after the two forces met on the road in the darkness, it looked as if a clash would come, but the good sense of those who had charge of the strikers prevented | him.

The march on Panther creek valley had een in contemplation for several days. The United Mine Workers ever since the strike started have been attempting to close the collieries of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company. Organizers were they did not meet with much success, so It was decided to use stronger methods to get the men employed in the 10 mines out on strike. Accordingly it was arranged that a big demonstration should be held in the valley. It was to have been held Monday morning, but, owing to the heavy rain and muddy roads, was called off until yesterday. The report that Frank Pardee, manager of the Calvin Pardee & Co. colliery at Cranberry, had requested the governor to send troops into Luzerne country, is not exactly correct. Mr. Pardee denies that he has done so, but says that he and Governor Stone have soldiers in this region. Yesterday was an exceedingly quiet ell said he had received no communication or even an intimation that the operators would accept the proposition made by the convention.

Two Massacres by Abyssinians.

Rome, Oct. 17 .- The Tribuna publishes orrespondence from Asmara, describing the massacre of an expedition to Lake Assal. The lake is situated in possessions ceded to France by Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia. It seems that the column, numbering 200, went to Lake Assal of the expedition on various pretexts and massacred the disarmed members during bivouac. A second expedition was sent to assist or avenge the first, but it is short response, and there was much enbelieved that this also met with a similar thusiasm.

In Pond In a Gunny Sack.

Supposed to Be That of George E. Bailey, a Farm Foreman.

Suspicion Points to a Man Employed by Him and He is Placed Under Arrest.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 18.—The Lynn police are at work on a murder mystery, the equal of which had not been found ir this vicinity for many years. About 10 o'clock yesterday morning the trunk of thoroughfare through which the parade a man was found in a gunny bag, lying passed was ablaze and along its brillacross three logs in Glenmere pond, or what is commonly known as Floating Bridge pond. The head, legs and arms and been severed from the body. It may turn out to be another instance where rival affections for a woman have led to a quarrel, and then, in revenge, the murder was committed.

Be this as it may, the police are inclined to the belief that George E Bailey has been murdered, and so have taken under arrest John C. Best, 32 years of age, a farm hand employed on the estate of which the supposed victim of the murder was carekeeper. Furhermore, the police, in searching the Break Heart Hill farmhouse, where the nen live, found in the barn cellar an axe which bore blood stains, but it is not certain they are of human blood. Simlar stains were found on a window sill and on a piece of cardboard in the room which Best occupied in the house.

Balley disappeared on Oct. 8. No one knew the reason, but there were persons who supposed that he had followed his wife to Wiscasset, Me., she having left the house, it is asserted, because of disagreement with Bailey. It is now laimed that the woman known as Mrs Bailey was not his wife; that, although Bailey was married, his wife's whereabouts are unknown. The woman is said to be Miss Susie Young, and was at the farm as housekeeper. With these lews as the result of their day's work, the police are trying to solve the mystery of the murder. Glenmere nond, where the body was of water, between Lynn and Salem. A bridge, which is 256 feet in length, floats on the pond. Beside this bridge, about stopped for the night. 10 o'clock yesterday morning, was found loating a gunny bag which held the two other bags of similar material were tion over the four candidates remains grappled to the surface, and each con-

The weapon used was, apparently, a heavy knife, not harp enough to cut clean, but of suficient strength to disjoint the bones of the neck, and to assist in crushing the femurs of the legs. The police will continue the search in the pond for the man's head and arms, and also to secure a positive identification of the body. The Bailey clew is undeniably a good one. The trunk answers the descrip- Denis hotel, and will spend a day or two tion as would be ascribed to Bailey, and in recuperating. the medical examiner's opinion as to the weight, age and habits of the man, are almost identical to a physical report should one have been made on Bailey The missing farmer was over six feet in height, and had red hair, so he could be easily identified. Best simply says that he had had no trouble with Balley, and does not know why he disappeared on Oct. 8, although he admits that on the next day he came to Lynn and got drunk.

The interest in the body centered in the autopsy by the medical examiner, for in his superficial examination he said that the man had been killed by a bullet wound, of which there are two on the left side of the body, either one of which would have caused instant death. It is judged that a weapon of large calibre was used, and in the Break Heart Hill farmhouse was found a 44-calibre rifle. There is some doubt as to how long the body was in the pond, judging from its condition. The medical examiner says that the man had been dead perhaps 10 days, but the body had not been in the water that length of time. On this point the police believe that, after the murder and mutilation of the body, it was racked into the gunny bag. That might have been 10 days ago, but they believe that a wagon was used Tuesday night to cart the ghastly burden to the bridge It was dumped overboard with a stone attached to the bag, but the string con necting the stone and bag did not hold easity seen by the young men who had curiosity enough to investigate the ob- feel like a new woman."

. Yesterday's action was the culmination of the recent meeting of the individual operators at Scranton, following the Mine Workers' convention in the same city. Nearly an of the collieries in the coal region had, previous to the Mine Workers' conversion, posted notices granting an advance of 10 percent. The mine workers, in considering this, demanded that the sliding scale be abol-Ished, the increase to be guaranteed until April 1, 1901, and all other differences to be submitted to arbitration.

The individual operators agreed to everything, and the appointment of a committee to induce the Reading and the Lehight comparises to abolish the sliding scale and make the wage increase permanent followed. ### BIG HIT.

The Flints certainly did make a big hit at Music Hall last night. Such bursts of laughter and applause have seldom if ever been heard there. And no wonder !!! There were Spanish dancers with tambourines and full costume, skirt dancers, local men known to a large number of the audience doing all sorts of queer stunts-gravely pumping water with no pump there-fondling a rag doll thinking it a baby, and then hunting for and at last finding its father in the audience-etc., etc., etc.

The 24 hour sleeper was awakened last night and showed no ill effects from his fast and sleep.

TONICHT the grand Cake Walk will be given with full costume and regalia and electric calcium effects, and even last night's roaring show promises to be eclipsed.

That is the way with the Flints-their shows grow bigger-funnier-more elaborate each evening.

Tickets are now on sale at MUSIC HALL PHARMACY.

IT IS BAILEY'S BODY,

Positive Identification of the Remains Found In Floating Bridge Pond.

Recovered by Police.

Best Has Lost None of His Coolness-Is Arraigned and Held Without Bail.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 19 .- The entire body of G. E. Bailey of North Saugus, who cutting telegraph and telephone wires. was murdered about Oct. 8, is now in the Their attacks are intolerable. The rebeen positively identified.

The missing head and arms were found corts. The only remedy seems to be to by the police in dragging Glenmere, "Floating Bridge," pond, yesterday af-These remains were taken to a local undertaker's rooms and there identified by people who knew Bailey well. John C. Best, who is held on suspicion of having committed the murder, was confronted with the head, but all he would say was that he thought it might e Bailey's.

The dragging of the pond was resumed yesterday afternoon. Officers McKenney and Burrell, who occupied one of the boats, hauled up an old meal bag. As it was lifted above the surface somethin dropped out of it, the mouth of the bag not being tied, and fell to the bottom o the pond. What it was no one seems to stone weighing 20 pounds.

The outer shirt sleeves, as well as those of the undershirt, were on the arms, and been recuperating, to ensure their transwere of the same material as those found for to the second cabin, on the trunk. On the left hand one of the fingers was twisted, this being the result of a former injury. This was one of the strong points of identification. Half an hour later, Officers Lyons and head was in good condition. At the tip of the chin, on the left side of the face, was quite a large hole, which looked as if it had been made by a misdirected blow when the head was chopped off. Meanwhile, several persons who had

John C. Best, the suspected murderer, was brought from the police station and changed his plea from not guilty to taken into the room where the dismem- guilty. bered remains of Bailey were lying. He was very cool, and apparently showed no change of countenance. He was asked he recognized the dead man, but his only reply was: "Well, I think that may only reply was: "Well, I think that may be him." He was then taken back to the station and looked up.

Medical Examiner Pinkham states that would not fix the time more definitely, south to west. but how long the body had been in the water he could not say. Best appeared in court yesterday be fore Judge Berry. He took his predica ment very coolly and pleaded not guilt to the charge. He was held withou bail until Saturday. He conversed free ly at the police station and laughed ove the appearance of cuts in the morning papers, but professed entire ignorance o any knowledge of the crime. His manner has had its weight with the police men, who are divided in the opinion of his guilt or innocence.

It is known that Best and Bailey had trouble over Miss Young. Bailey was jealous of Best, and the latter says the had had words, but never anything de veloped worse than hard feelings. At effort will be made to obtain a state ment from Miss Young.

After a period of drinking, now that Best had come to his normal condition he appears to be weakening, and it would not be surprising if he gave some further information which may prove of interes in the case. Suspicion of Foul Play.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 19.-Daniel Gould, shoemaker, 38 years old, died at the hos pital here, and the autopsy showed fracture of the skull, in the opinion o Medical Examiner Pinkham, by a blo from a blunt instrument. A Mrs Wright, who keeps a boarding house notified the police that an unknown mar had wandered there, that he had n business there and she wished to hav him removed. The officers found Goullying in the hallway. The smell of lique was very strong about him, and it bor every evidence of being a case of beastl intoxication. He was taken to the sta tion house and placed in a cell. Later not having recovered consciousness, h was sent to the hospital, where the attendants attributed his condition t stupor from the effects of liquor. Yesterday he died, and the autopsy revealed a fracture of the skull.

Jury Reported Disagreement. Boston, Oct. 19.—The jury in the casof Hugh J. Hill, chief train dispatched of the Taunton division of the N. Y., N. H and H. railroad, who has been on trial, charged with violating the United States statutes, which prohibit railroads discriminating against an employe be-cause he is a member of a labor organization, reported a disagreement. It was alleged that Hill discharged Peter J. Galligan, a train dispatcher, because the latter belonged to the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

Sentenced For Contempt of Court. Boston, Oct. 19.-George Wethersbe and Minnie McIntosh, both of Revere, failed to appear in court as witnesses in a liquor case, after being summoned.

Controversy Over Price of Powder May Necessitate Another Convention.

Miners Expected Straight Ten Percent Increase.

Operators, However, Declare That Reduction In Powder Was Included In the Figures.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.-Just at the moment the great anthracite coal strike appeared to be on the verge of a settlement the operators interjected new obstacles which may mark the beginning of more trouble. Representatives of nearly all the big coal companies of the region conferred at Scranton yesterday and made an agreement to amend the notices already posted by attaching the following:

"In further explanation of the above notice, this company desires to say that it is its intention to pay the advance in wages above noted until April 1, 1901, and thereafter until further notice." The following statement was issued to the press: "The representatives of the larger coal ompanies, after their meeting this afternoon, stated, in reply to inquiries, that they had offered their men a 10 percent advance as indicated by the notices they had posted; that this notice specifically stated that the reduction of powder from $2.75 to $1.50 would be considered in arriving at the wages of their contract miners. It was expected when the notices were posted that the offer was to stand until April 1, and indefinitely thereafter, but, inasmuch as there seems to be some misunderstanding in this matter, they have agreed to add to their notice a clause to the effect that it is their intention to pay the advance in wages until April 1, 1901, and thereafter until further notice.'

National President Mitchell, District Secretary Dempsey and National Organizer Dilcher of the United Mine that the resolutions of the Scranton convention contemplated a straight advance of 10 percent, and that the matter of having this increase made up in part of a they said, was left out of the present negotiations, with the understanding that it should form one of the grievances to be adjusted in the conference which the operators agree to have with their men to "take up any grievances they may have." President Mitchell stated that he would have to decline to discuss its probable effect in regard to a settlement until he had given the matter careful consideration. He would not say whether or not ficulty without calling another conven-

President Nicholls, whose whole district is affected by the powder question, said that it looked to him as if another convention was necessary.

The Feeling at Hazleton.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 19 .- As far as ending the coal miners' strike is concerned. not a move in that direction has been made by the United Mine Workers' officials. The feeling is prevalent here that the decision of the operators' meeting at Scranton to insist that the reduction in showed remnants of food in it, indicat- lantic states and thence northward to the price of powder must be taken into consideration in determining the net been dead over a week, although he coast the winds will be mostly fresh cated matters somewhat. Further de-10 percent increase in wages has complilay in reaching an amicable adjustment of the trouble is now feared. The situation otherwise is precisely the same as that which obtained when the first notice of the coal companies were posted on Oct. 3. Up to today four companies in the Hazleton region have posted notices accepting the Scranton convention's demands.

> Serious Results Are Feared. Muncie, Ind., Oct. 19 .- As a result of labor union troubles at Eaton between independent workmen employed by the Bauer factory and the members of the Window Glass union, a fight occurred last night in which one man probably received a fatal bullet wound, as he was running away from a man whom he had knocked down in the melee. The wounded man belongs to the union, and it is feared if they find his assailant, who was locked up for safe keeping, they will lynch him. It is feared there may be

St. Thomas, W. I., Oct. 19.—The British steamer Hostilius, before reported disabled by a broken propeller shaft on Oct. , was found by the British cruiser Indefatigable, which went in search of her. The Indefatigable reached Barbados yesterday. News of the breakdown of the Hostilius was carried to Barbados by the first officer and part of the crew, who made the voyage of 700 miles from the disabled steamer in a boat.

THE GRAND CIRCUS.

It certainly was one big circus at Music Hall last night-good, clean sport-funny, funny, roaringly funny. There were eight or nine that would follow out the slightest suggestion given by the Flints-they hunted for a church bell dimly heard-they couldn't put their finger in their mouth but how they did try, rolling on the floor even, in their frantic efforts-they had the toothache and howled with pain and then one was the dentist and pulled the tooth-the fee was demanded and as the patient wouldn't pay his father was found in the audience and told to hand over. Yellow roses grew and they drank in the fragrance-the roses were changed to canaries and each was given one which he lovingly fondled and whistled to-a strawberry patch was before them and the luscious berries were eagerly eaten-pitching and catching began and the form the pitchers displayed was truly fearful and wonderful to behold-one was struck by the ball in the stomach and knocked over moaning with pain and the others eagerly rushed to his assistance-and then the cake walk !!! there never were such coons in Music Hall before-how they did enjoy it-how eagerly they kissed their partners and when they were awakened by a snap of the fingers and saw themselves gayly rigged with skirts and costumes, how they did run for the wings. And so it goes--bigger and better every evening.

TONICHT --- Well, nobody knows just what there will be, but two things are booked in particular-stump speaking-Democratic and Republican-for McKinley and for Bryan-and an actual circus with bare back riders-tight rope walkers-snake charmers-the strong man-the ring master, etc., etc., and all elaborately costumed.

Many are inclined to think, because he Tenth Congressional district occasionally elects a Democrat, that it is a Democratic district, but the vote of Governor Crane in the district given Congressman Naphen in 1898.

Aside from the Republican majorities wards in the Tenth district gave Mayor arguments made. Hart, Republican candidate for Mayor of Boston last year, a majority of 944 over Patrick A. Collins, the Democratic candidate. Adding the Republican majorities of Quincy and Milton for EARN Congressman in 1898—respectively 451 and 293-and the Republican majority n the district in 1688.

The vote of the Boston wards was:

|          | Hart.  | Collin |

It is generally conceded that George B. Pierce, the Republican candidate this year, will run better than did Samuel J. Barrows in 1898. This together with the facts that 1899 was an off year and this year is Presidential year, makes the outlook for the Republicans very encouraging.

Some claim the election of Dr. Pierce by over 3000 plurality.

In 1896, the year of the last Presidential election, Samuel J. Barrows at 5.23; Atlantic at 5.27. was elected Congressman in the Tenth district by a plurality of 2,888 over Boardman Hall, Democrat, notwithstanding 2,612 votes were given William L. Chase, Republican citizen candidate. The Boston vote was: Barrows, 14,680; Hall, 13,079; Chase, 2,110. The Quincy vote: Barrows, 1818; Hall, 990; Chase, 429. The Milton vote: Barrows, 349; Hall, 190; Chase, 73.

Parsimonious Policy In Religion. A business that is important should not be crippled by a policy of parsimony. Such a proposition is close to the self evident. Religious business is important. How grave the error is of restricting the field of operation and influence of such a business need not be argued. All the beautiful fall and winter textiles, even the velvets, brocades and new French moires, enriched with velvet or satin stripes or flowers, are soft and flexible, and thus are easily draped, plaited, folded or tucked.

Some of the cold weather street bolero and Eton jackets of black, royal blue, Russian green and Grenat velvet or velours de nord will be finished with long pointed revers and a Robespierre hood of otter, seal, mink or other costly fur.

Rivaling in favor the bolero, Eton and little French jacket bodices and short Louis coats are new double breasted Russian blouses, trimly belted, but made without the skirts, which were added to these garments when last in fashion.

The use of white satin fur edgings, gold braid and rich guipure laces will be a dominating feature of elegant cloth and velvet gowns for two seasons to come, the satin accessories still consisting of fitted or tucked blouse vests, revers, col lar, girdle, etc.

Natty French jackets of covert cloth are made with loose fronts without dart seams, double breasted and finished with three graduated circular shoulder capes, the roll of the lining showing like a silk or satin piping at the extreme edge of each cape.—New York Post.

Much disappointment was expressed n this region because an early ending of the strike was prevented by reason of the powder grievance. What will be done with this question is difficult to fore ast, and it is believed the United Mine Workers' officials have not yet definitely ecided what they will do.

Some of the strike leaders say the nion officials are not authorized by the Scranton convention to decide the pow er grievance, and that another convenion of miners will be necessary to dispose of the question.

President Mitchell maintains an absoute silence as to the possible action to be taken, saying only that he is doing everything to bring the matter to an amicable end.

Preparations to resume operations are being made by the several of the big ompanies in the Shamokin region, and this tends to add to the depression of the miners who are anxious to return to work, but will not do so without positive nstructions from President Mitchell.

A brown canvass shooting jacket, which Bailey used to wear, cannot be found. Charles Deery thinks it was worn by Bailey when the latter delivered milk at his house on the Monday night before he disappeared. One of the axes usually kept on the farm, a sharp, heavy instrument, is also missing, and it is thought possible that this may have been the heavy object that fell from one of the meal bags containing a portion of the murdered man's body, as it was fished out of Floating Bridge pond Thursday. Drift of Opinion.

This nation is becoming the leader among all producers. Its wares command the attention of all peoples in all climes. It is infinitely necessary then, that no door be shut in the face of our mills and workshops, and that no territory legitimately ours shall give its patronage to a foreign people. -Pawtucket Times.

man or woman. If we want to make an impression on the social problem we must take account of ourselves. The finest type of man is a Christian man. What is a Christian? A brave man; the knowledge that a man owns nothing; that it is all Gods, and that he is going to use it for him. Be a man of one idea, even though you will be called a crank. It is worth while to have an individual life that does not even hesitate. If we want to amount to something why not take Christ as Braintree Observer and Reporter an example. We can not love enough in this world. If we love enough we can do anything.

Chairman King thought the association had done itself proud. He then dwelt at length upon the Young Men's Christian Association and what it was doing for the young men. For his topic he took the word "Life," and told of the relation of the Association to life.

Dr. John A. Gordon, chairman of the building committee told how he first became interested in the Young Men's Christian Association, forty years ago, when he came to the city from his country home. He told how much he enjoyed the association and what a power for good it was. He then spoke of the need of a building for the Quincy association. There was now over $1000 on deposit for the building fund, and $1750 pledged, and he soon hoped to have enough to stay, Rev. W.W. Dornam said a thing was good relatively so far as it serves us. Nothing is all osolutely good except God Almight, He thought more should be said about the old young men, as young men are looking up to those above them. He then spoke on the religious side of the association work. Education and the gymnasium were but incidentals. Education does not large make a man. There can be no true morality without principle, and no principle without religion. He closed with a plea for a larger help to this part of the work.

Delcevare King spoke for the finanthe year did not owe a cent. He paid tribute to Secretary Hoehn, and outned the work as it was now being specke of the need of a building.

lev. E. N. Hardy's sentiment was "Let us make a man." He believed therte was no institution that should John B. McDonald and Thomas O'Keefe of stant d higher than that which was try-Randolph were fined $5 each for violating the ing to make a man: a man spiritually. Randolph were fined so each for violating the liquor laws, and the liquors seized from Mcself. We want many things in Quincy, but above all we want better and truer | manhood.

The e last speaker was D. A. Dummet, State Secretary. He spoke upon what was being done throughout the wond in the way of erecting associatipon buildings, and how much good the associations were doing. His endeavor seemed to be to stimulate his hearers to see to it that the Quincy Association did not lack the funds for a new building.

The last thing on the pragramme was a motion by Ex-Councilman N. G. ladies for the banquet, and to William Patterson for the floral decorations.

Mr. Bryan responded to this question by saying: "If you will examine the of the Philippines gives a market of conditions prescribed by your administration for a voter in Porto Rico, you year as they come into more civilized will find that 83 percent of the colored conditions and their wants increase. men of voting age cannot vote in Porto Rico under this administration."

He had scarcely begun his discussion of the trust question, when some one made an inquiry about the cotton bale trust. Mr. Bryan replied to the effect that the Cotton Bale company owned a are an industrious, sober, producing patent for baling cotton and that it class. There are nearly 400 miles of did not bale one-twentieth of the cotton produced in this country. Having replied to this inquiry, Mr. Bryan himself volunteered to take up the ice trust question. There was an in-terruption from the crowd, and a voice in the outskirts cried out: "How about Croker?"

Mr. Bryan turned sharply and said "Mr. Croker has no stock in the ice trust, but why are you worried about Croker when you are not afraid of Platt?" He had not finished his reply to the question when a young man made an inquiry about the free coinage of silver, eliciting from Mr. Bryan the following:

Mr. Bryan: "I have replied to you sir. You do not have to ask questions. Look in our platform and you will find our position on every question. You dare not state yours in a platform or on the stump. Our platform presents our views on every question.

The young man insisted upon a further response, and repeated several "Answer," "answer." Bryan responded:

"I have answered you, sir. I cannot give you understanding; I can simply give you an answer.'

There was quite an intermission of questions here, and Mr. Bryan was per mitted to go on with his speech. A spirited meeting was held at Auburn

Acc pts Silver Republican Nomination.

Rochester, Oct. 20 .- A letter accepting the nomination of the Silver Republican was mailed yesterday by Mr. Bryan to the notification committee of that party. In it Mr. Bryan says that their platform is in its declarations so similar to the Democratic platform, adopted at Kansas City, that it is not necessary for him to take up the planks in detail. LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR BATES

THINK OF THIS!

From Senator Stewart's Letter Declaring In Favor of McKinley.

"Mr. Bryan says that as soon as he is elected he is going to call congress ogether and have all our soldiers now in the Philippine archipelago brought home and then he is going to let Aguinaldo and Agoneillo form a stable govrnment. And yet in another speech he says that the only reason we ought not to have anything to do with them is that they are entirely unfit for self-government, and he is going to let them es tablish a stable government, then he is going to establish a protectorate ove

"Think of that. In the first place, a stable government for the Philippine archipelago; it is the work of years, and it is the work of the gravest instruction. not the work of the Aguinaldos, who never claimed to be anything but dicta tors. And then a protectorate; a protectorate for what end? Why, to protect them against the 50 insurrections which would spring up the next 90 days after they had established a stable government. There would be an insurred tion in every island. We would have to protect Aguinaldo against every chie

"What more? Why, we would have to protect him against Europe. Do you suppose Europe would sit quietly by and see all those various islands in insurrection, property endangered? Why, in less than 90 days the whole of Europ would step in to protect their property and the lives of their citizens, or would go there on a pretense of doing so. Then they would seize on this archipelago and divide it up among them. Very likely they would war over the spoils. Is no that a sensible proposition? What miserable set of cowards and sneaks the American people would appear to be in the eyes of the whole world if today, under threats of Aguinaldo and his people yesterday adopted a resolution to build with the sympathies of the Democratic unicipal street railways after the ex- party, they should take down the American flag and order the troops home?"

Although, as President Mitchell says, the outlook for an early settlement of the strike is bright, it is difficult to make a prediction as to when the end will come. Some of the coal companies are showing a disposition not to issue a second notice guaranteeing the payment of April. The labor leaders, however, hope that the companies will in some way the payment of the advance until April poisoning. As soon as all the notices guaranteeing the payment of the advance until April 1 are posted President Mitche will call a meeting of the national executive board, at which it is believed

The committee is not connected in any way with the United Mine Workers of America. For the first time since the strike a public appeal for aid was made at Sham. okin yesterday by a committee, calling on business men and collecting money and provisions for impoverished families of strikers.

Discontent among the striking miner of the Wyoming valley is growing, and unless the strike is settled soon they will be hard to control. A majority of the men are willing and anxious to go to work, and if President Mitchell should call the strike off tomorrow, even with the powder question unsettled, he would receive more credit from his followers than to allow the contest to drag on with the chance of losing in the end.

The discontentment of the strikers was shown at the works of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company in the eastern part of Wilkesbarre yesterday. A gang of men were going to work to screen coal on the bank of the Empire mine, when they were set upon by a mob of men women and boys. During the melee several shots were fired. The mob destroyed all the tools of the workmen. The local officers of the United Mine Workers say none of their men were engaged in the fight.

Women are vastly more patient than men. It is scarcely believable that a woman, suffering past all telling, can attend to business, and bend and stoop with a back whose ache is agony. And beyond all this she smiles as she bends and stoops about her customer. A man might swallow down an oath or keep back a groan, but his face would be like a thundercloud, and his voice scarcely disguise his irritation.

MANY GOOD POINTS.

In the new Automobile Built by George F. Phillips.

The automobile being built by George F. Phillips, brief mention of which was made in Monday's Ledger, differs materially from many of the machines in use. These for the most part use electricity or gasoline engine for their motive power.

With electricity a heavy storage battery has to be carried, and steep hills are hard to climb, and one on a journey is likely to find himself far from home without power.

In the gasoline machine the exploding gasoline drives the engine, and hills are also hard to climb.

In the machine of Mr. Phillips', steam is used as a motive power, the generating agent being gasoline. Just back of the seat and suspended to the oak frame is an eighteen-inch or eightnorse power boiler, to which is attached a four and one-half horse power verticle engine.

In the boiler are 453 half-inch copper tubes. Under the boiler is a gasoline burner containing 5000 small holes with which it is possible with the boiler full of co'd water, to generate 150 pounds of steam in ten minutes. The blow off is set at 200 pounds. The boiler is tested to 700 pounds

From the shaft of the engine a chain tested to stand a strain of 2,700 pounds runs over a rachet on a rear axle, which drives the carriage.

Attached to the front axle, or rather suspended to it, is a copper gasoline tank holding nine gallons, which is sufficient to carry the carriage 150 miles. The extra space in the gasolene tank is filled with air which forces the Josiah Quincy must have liquid to the burner.

In the front of the carriage are the now marching together, shoulder to levers and valves, for controlling the The wheels are 28 inch and have two and one half inch pneumatic tires. In most carriages it is difficult to make the slightest repairs as the machinery cannot be got at. In Mr. Phillips machine, however, the body of the carriage is easily removed, exposing to view the entire machinery, which can be readily repaired.

He expects to remedy this week the defects discovered on his trial trip last Littleton, Mass., spent Sunday with a much more snappy game than with best Kerosene Oil. Sunday so that next Sunday he can Mrs. Lysander Nash.

Has Been Pursued In the Agreement Between Germany and England.

Concurrence of Powers Believed to Be Near at Hand.

THE AMERICAN POLICY

United States Not to Join In Preliminary Undertakings Regarding Eventual Steps.

Washington, Oct. 23 .- Opinion is unanimous that the Anglo-German agreement, which is taken to amount to an alliance regarding the Chinese question, is a virtual victory for American diplo macy, and it is held that the way for the establishment of peace has been made easy and sure.

It is authoritatively stated that the United States government views with distinct favor the principles enunciated in the agreement, and that a formal response to that effect will be made at an early date to the invitation extended to this government to accept the principles of the agreement. The German charge of affairs, Count

De Quadt, had a conference with Secretary Hay yesterday, presenting officially the text of the Anglo-German agreement, including the invitation to the United States to accept the principles therein recorded. Mr. Hay expressed his satisfaction at what had been done, saying he felt it to be in complete harmony with the policy this governmen had pursued, both as to the maintenance of unobstructed commerce in China and the territorial entity of the empire, and adding that a formal reply would be given in a day or two. Count De Quadt was gratified at these assurances, and left with the belief that there was such a harmonious understanding on the general principles involved that the concurrence of the powers was near at hand. Before receiving the official invitation from Germany, Mr. Hay had been fully advised of the agreement, and had gone over it with great care with the president Sunday and yesterday. This was the more necessary, owing to the president's departure for Canton last night. The result of these deliberations is summed up in the statement that the government views the Anglo German agreement with favor. It is also probable that some attention has been given to the draft of the American reply. It is likely to be in the form of a note of approval, rather than any formal adherence to the alliance, but this is said to be merely a matter of de-

About the only serious question which has arisen as to the American reply was on clause 3 of the Anglo-German agreement. This states that in case of another power making use of the complications in China in order to obtain terri torial advantages, Germany and Great Britain reserves the right to reach a preliminary understanding on the eventua step to be taken for the protection of their

This is open to the construction of being a threat against other powers, and there is no desire on the part of officials here to give American adherence to any thing in the nature of a threat. It is probable that the American reply will not go beyond accepting the principle that Germany and Great Britain have a right to agree between themselves as to their eventual course. But there is not likely to be anything which will commit this government to accept this eventual agreement. In short, the third clause is tation extended to other powers to join them in a preliminary understanding regarding the eventual step to be taken.

Russia Will Have Booty.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 23.-The Viedonosti thinks the Anglo-German agreement "aims at the protection of that which needs no protection. To the question as to who will threaten the integrity of China there is only one answer-those who have arranged to crush any one who thinks of preventing them from taking as booty those ports in China which they have regarded as belonging to them. Russia will, in the meanwhile, know how to protect China."

Assured of Harmony.

Berlin, Oct. 23.-Although no formal answers have yet been received from the powers regarding the Anglo-German agreement, Count Von Buelow has been assured by the diplomatic representatives here that their governments will readily accede to the arrangement.

All Is Above Board.

Berlin, Oct. 23 .- With reference to the speculations as to the existence of secret clauses in the Anglo-German agreement. The National Zeitung, after careful inquiry, affirms that no such clauses exist

Nor is this all; we have paid 100 cents large: on every dollar contracted by the firm and only a few years ago completed a $12,000.00 contract by paving and curbing Copeland street from Brewers Charles M. Bryant, Ward Five corner to the Willard school.

In 1898 we received like treatmen from Commissioner Knowlton when the contract for paving Hancock street was awarded to an out of town concern, whose bid was also in advance of the one submitted by us. We sought an Walter P. Hill, Ward Six, explanation for his action at this time, Thomas F. Hogan, Ward Four, but only received a discourteous and John L. Johnson, Ward Three, unsatisfactory answer.

Coming to the contract of Copeland Arthur W. Newcomb, Ward Two, street which we have been lately refused, thinking it ours by right, we offered to furnish a cash deposit of John E. Poland, at large, $500:00 or a bond of $10,000.00 as Thomas W. Smith Ward Three, security to deliver 50,000 first class John W. Walsh, Ward Two, pavers within 48 hours from the time George H. Wilson, Ward Ore, of signing said contract. When Mr. Knowlton was told these facts by a member of the firm, he curtly inquired: 'Who asked you to bid on this contract, anyway?"

During the present administration, which the taxpayers believe to be based on economy, we sought no favors, but were of the opinion that an advertised contract for estimates should be awarded the lowest bidder, when that bidder is a responsible party, as this firm has always proved itself to be. Susie Young Arrives at the Breakheart Hill Farm.

Finding of Hair and Blood Stains and Fragment of Burned Burlap.

Lynn, Mass., Oct., 23 .- The body of George Bailey was shipped to Boston yesterday and later was sent on its way to Whitefield, Me., where it will be buried to address portions of his speeches es in the family lot. About the same time Officer Hammond left Wiscasset, Me., have justice done by themselves. with Susie L. Young, who later arrived at Breakheart Hill farm, to assist the police in making some investigations Unitl three weeks ago the woman acted as housekeeper for the two men, and the police are trying to ascertain beyond all tions, for the purpose of considering reasonable doubt whether Bailey and Best had a quarrel at any time about Miss Young.

With Susie Young's visit to the farm garded by the farmers' organization the officers who are working on the murpossibly one of the weapons used by the murderer in his task of dismembering the body. From what they found it seems likely that the government wil set up the contention that Bailey's body and for a restoration of the merchant mawas cut up indoors rather than in the company with Officers Rhodes and Foster. Then, in company with Officers Neal and Hammond, a visit was paid to the washroom in the rear portion of the house, which had been kept locked since the search for the murderer begun. Th reason why things were unmolested in this room was the desire of the officers to have Miss Young see the conditions. She used this room more than anyon else, and she probably knew what things it contained. The room contained a lot of litter such as is frequently found in a farm storeroom. The officers looked the place over, and on the stoye were the keys, without which Bailey, according to Miss Young, never left the house. Bailey often took them out of his pocket on coming into the house, as he nearly always wore his working suit after work was done. Near the keys was a small hatchet, one side of the head having a blade and the other tapering into a point. Miss Young said this "tomahawk" was used entirely for chopping The officers found light covered hair and blood stains on it. On the floor nearby were marks resembling blood stains. On the wall paper, in exact line colored marks. During the search Offlcer Mansfield found under the barn a fragment of burlap, the edges of which had been burned. This fragment is similar to the fragments found near where it was claimed by John H. Thoma a fire was kindled. Thomas said that to him it appeared as if blankets were being burned, and Miss Young said tha Bailey's horse blankets were lined with burlap, as she sewed the material for them. Bailey invariably carried two on his wagon, but these cannot be found. The fragment of burlap found yesterday dence strengthens the belief of the off cers that Best tried to burn up all of th body. They further believe that the body was dismembered in the washroom.

The officers now have two hatchets and three axes, but one large axe is missing,

Medical Examiner Pinkham has looked over his notes on the autopsy, and is inclined to place the time of Bailey's death at three hours' after eating a meal. He had first expressed an opinion that it jor Myers will write to Sir Percy Sanderwas 11/2 hours. He will further consider the question.

"When M. Henri says a thing, he means it," they said, but I persuaded one of them to place his mattress across the door, begging him to spend the night there, ready to break in at the first alarm. This done, I retired, but I was still uneasy. Though I threw myself dressed upon my bed, I could not sleep. An hour passed wearily by, then another; the suspense became unbearable. Unable longer to suppress my fears, I took a ladder from a lumber room at the end of the corridor, placed it noiselessly under the oeil de boeuf window, climbed up and looked into the room. The light was still burning, though the house was plunged in silence.

M. Henri was lying on the side of the bed nearest to the wall, and Ripard, having placed the light upon the table near to the head of the bed, was standing motionless beside it watching the sleeper's face.

REPUBLICAN ISSUES.

Boiled Down, They Will All Be Found In the Full Dinner Pail.

"Our issue is the prosperity of the American people and the honor of the American nation. They are menaced by free silver at home and free rioting in the Philippines. Under the Republican party the country has been raised from dire depression to boundless prosperity and the good name of the republic has been kept unsullied. Common sense tells you that if you preserve prosperity and the public faith, you must support the party which has created and main tained them. THE TRUST QUESTION.

Publicity One of the Best Remedies For Crushing Out Evil.

"Talk about the sincerity of the Democratic party on the trust question. Why, at Kansas City they put a plank in their platform denouncing trusts, but ignored Grover Cleveland, who once said, 'Publi office is a public trust.' (Laughter. The Democratic party in the city of Nev York has turned public office into an ictrust. There they are gouging the poor people out of their hard-earned wages for what to them is a necessity of life while the very conspirators who formed the ice trust were gathered in Saratoga denouncing lt."—Lieutenant Governor Woodruff.

"The Democrats referred to trusts in a single line in the Wilson bill. That's all they have done against trusts. Think of Croker and Van Wyck and all that crowd with their pockets bulging out with trust stock, putting in the platform 'We condemn the ice trust!' They come up with all the courage of that wicked flee when no man pursueth' "-Congressman Paine.

"A word as to trusts. Beyond a question the great industrial combinations which we group in popular parlance under the name of trusts have produced great and serious evils. There is every reason why we should try to abate those evils and to make men of wealth, whether they act individually or collectively bear their full share of the country's burdens, and keep as scrupulously withraised by our opponents in the minds of in the bounds of equity and morality as the polls in Name with their success at the polls in Name with the Name with the Name with the polls in Name with the least harm, and simply postpones th day when we can make them amenable to proper laws. A Headquarters For Patrons of Husbandry at the Buffalo Exposition. The Executive Committee of the New York State Grange visited Buffalo recently to make such arrangements as might be possible for a Headquarters for the Order upon the Pan-American Exposition Grounds, the New York State Grange feeling itself to be occupying in a measure the position of host toward the members of the Grange throughout the United States who might visit the Exposition. In addition to this the New York State Grange alone comprises a membership of 60,-000, so that the convenience and comfort of the members of the Order in the State of New York alone were deemed worthy of careful attention on the part of the Executive Committee of the Grange. The Director General stated to the Executive Committee that an effort would be made on his part to bring about some arrangement that might be pecuniary reward, and the improved satisfactory to the Grange, so that it demand lends a new attractiveness to may be taken for granted that a Headquarters for the National Grange upon the Exposition grounds will be providod for in some manner. #### WHERE AMERICANS WIN

Labor Saving Tools Secure Them Business In Foreign Lands.

FINDINGS OF A BRITISH AGENT.

Ingenuity of Americans More Than Balances Disadvantages of High Wages, Distance and Freight, Striking Instances of Appliances Used For Saving Labor.

The British commercial agent to the United States has been trying to find but how American, and especially Chicago, manufacturers can compete successfully with foreign manufacturers under ordinary conditions of trade that are against the Americans. His conclusion is that the secret lies in the widespread use of time and labor saving machinery, says the Chicago Times-Herald. In this branch of industry the agent, E. Seymour Bell, concedes to American ingenuity and shrewdness a superiority over that of the old world.

Great Britain wondered how the United States could capture contracts for bridges and rails in South Africa when the factors of distance, wages and freight are so much in favor of the European competitors. It was especially marveled at that Chicago, so far from the seashore and paying high prices for labor, could secure a part of the South African trade. Mr. Bell says it is because the machine tools so main his report:

"In order to be able to turn out goods at such a rapid rate and in such large quantities only machine tools of the very latest pattern are used. Every improvement and every invention by left at Page's Pool Room, Hancock street, and which labor may be saved or time re- at Freight Office Quincy Adams Depot. duced is at once taken advantage of. In all the works I have seen in this country the one great object seemed to be to save unnecessary labor wherever possible and to get through the work as expeditiously as possible.

"In one large works which I had an opportunity of visiting I found one man in charge of ten automatic machines, all working at the same time. Some were lathes turning small pieces others were putting the thread on nuts and bolts. In this one shop there were 50 machine tools working and in charge of only five men.

"It is not an unusual thing to see one man in charge of three or four of the ordinary small lathes. They are placed in such a position as to make it possible. Drilling machines with batteries of four or six drills are not uncommon also machines cutting key ways in eight small axles at one time. Conse quently, though wages are high, the actual cost per piece is very low on account of one man being able, thanks to these labor saving machines, to turn

"In one works I visited I was assured that ordinary laborers were being James-Wot? After he told me dat employed in place of skilled mechanics be'd knock de stuffin out o' me if I did! to take charge of some of the lathes and drilling machines so as to avoid paying the higher wages of the more perfectly, because, owing to the perfec Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of so that an unskilled man might work so that an unskilled man might work tion in the construction of the matheir children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all, but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it the tools were sharpened ready for the man in charge. This was only possible, of course, where the work to be done was not of a complicated nature.

"I had the opportunity of visiting one of the largest agricultural machine establishments where they employ, when in full work, about 9,000 hands. They confine themselves to making grass mowers, hay rakes, reapers, binders and binder twine. Beyond making a few machine tools for their own use and doing their own repairs, the whole force is employed in making these few articles. They consequently turn out large numbers, and, needless to say, the quality of the construction is excellent.

"Labor saving machines and appliances are to be seen everywhere. In the forge, for instance, there was not a hand hammer to be seen. Nothing but tilt hammers worked from pulleys and a few steam hammers for the heavier pieces were used. The iron was heated in gas and oil furnaces. Electricity was used throughout, not only for lighting, but also for driving the machinery. Compressed air was used as an accessory for working the cranes and hoists and also for operating the pneumatic tools for chipping, calking,

"In addition to the tools I have mentioned there were many other instances where the appliances used for the saving of labor were striking. I noticed a machine for punching 60 holes in iron plates at one stroke, another for riveting at one stroke 20 teeth on the knife plates of grass mowers. Cart loads of timber were unloaded in a very few seconds by means of rollers placed lengthwise on the carts.

"To describe the apparatus I saw would be useless, but perhaps what I have mentioned will give a fair idea of the many ways by which machinery is turned out quickly and cheaply from American workshops. At the works I have seen malleable iron castings play a very important part. They are largely used in the place of forged iron. "Machine tools of British manufac ture do not seem to be in favor in this country. They are not considered suitable for the work to be done, and are generally dearer than those of native 5, 8 and 10 cts. Fer Roll make. There are consequently comparatively few to be seen. The designs of some of the American tools are certainly very ingenious, and the F. T. APPLETON, work they do is exceedingly accurate. They also appear to run at a greater speed than re English ones."

Officer Neal made a discovery las night which he believes to be of special mportance. Early last evening he went to the Pleasant Hill neighborhood and ead a talk with Charles Deery, to whom Bailey delivered milk daily. #### Prohibitionists Put In a Day In Massachusetts and Start Westward Again.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 25.-Governor Roosevelt's third day's campaigning in New York state embraced several features not heretofore marked in his reception huge crowds of people. The third feature of the day was a pre concerted attempted at Rome to compe Governor Roosevelt to answer questions oncerning the removal of Mayor Van Wyck, the prosecution of the ice trust thieves and others relating to the office of governor. That this attempt was préconcerted is assured from the fact that men in the crowd asking these questions held in their hands printed slips and that upon their failure to compel the slips were throkn into his carriage. The governor positively declined to give any xpression of opinion as to the circulars r their authorship or to answer any of e questions contained in them.

With the exception of a short trip of alf an hour to Herkimer, where a brief address was made, the culminating speeches of the day were at two immens meetings in this city.

Bryan Made Many Speeches.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 25 .- Mr. Bryan made two speeches of some length in this city last night, after having made 1 other addresses during the day. Beginning at St. Michaels, on the eastern shore of Maryland, he spoke in succession at Easton, Preston, Hurlock, Vienna, Salisbury and Berlin, all of which places are in Maryland, and then came into Delaware. The audiences of the day were as a rule, fair-sized, and a majority o them were thoroughly appreciative. A a few of the stopping places in Delaware there was apparent lack of enthusiasm.
At the first of Mr. Bryan's night meet ings in this city, in reply to a series of questions propounded to him by John P. Nields, of this city, Mr. Bryan said:

"I stated that, if elected president, I extraordinary session and would ask congress to declare the nation's policy to be to establish a stable government Cuba; to declare our purpose to give independence to the Filipinos as we have promised to give independence to the Cubans; to declare our purpose to give protection to the Filipinos as we have promised to give protection to the Cubans, and have for 75 years given protection to the republics of Central and South

"No one has attempted to fix the number of hours or days or weeks or months ecessary, but I will say this, that I beieve that we could establish a stable overnment in the Philippines in less time than the Republican party has established one in Cuba, and that I think I can promise you that our officials would not embezzle as Republican officials have embezzled Cuban money." On a question relative to paying the obligations of this government in silver or gold, if elected president, he said: "I want the Republicans who want that question answered to first find out wha the law requires, and then I want them to know that, if elected president, I will enforce that law just as I will enforce the law against trusts, and put striped clothes on big thieves as well as little thieves. But if you ask me to constru a Republican law, I reply that I shall not construe a law until it becomes my duty to enforce it."

Talked to Bay Staters.

Boston, Oct. 25.-With a welcome which was hearty if it was not uproariously demonstrative, John G. Woolley, the presidential candidate of the Prohibition party, made speeches in many places in eastern Massachusetts yesterday, concluding his day's work at a rally held in this city. ## MAY NOT TAKE STAND, Best Will Be Held For the Grand Jury In the Opinion of State Officers.

Quarrel Between Best and Bailey Previous to Murder.

Prosecution Will Endeavor to Show a Motive In Robbery and Revenge.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 26 .- Officers are anxfously waiting for State Officer Proctor to return from New Haven with a report on the rifle and bullets found in the Breakheart Hill house, and the bullets taken from George E. Bailey's body. Professor Wood on the bloodstains that have been found at different points, and submitted to him for microscopic examination. While the officers are waiting for these two important reports, they are devoting their time in getting evidence in shape to proceed against John C. Best, providing Officer Proctor and Professor Wood make reports that the officers believe will be made.

So thoroughly have the police collected their evidence in the case that it is now practically certain that Best will not take the stand at the hearing in the Lynn police court on Tuesday.

While no statement to this effect has come from his attorneys, the general impression is that it would be unwise for the accused to attempt to explain away the many things which the police are ready to bring against him, it being now generally admitted that nothing can save him from the grand jury.

Even without the evidence of the experts on the blood stains and bullets, the state officers say that they have enough evidence to hold Best, and are therefore prepared to go to a hearing on Tuesday and to forego asking for a further continuanc

The state will show that Bailey must have returned, because his coat and keys have since been found in the house, the coat he wore when last seen alive, and the keys which never left his possess Best's admission, that Best had the weapon that could have been used in the crime, and that he had a motive in robbery and revenge. They will also show that Best had admitted having a quarrel with Bailey before he started for the house of Charles Deery, the man who saw

The police put a good deal of stress on this quarrel, the details of which Best has never told. Best says there were words, and the police say that Best, being drunk, by his own admission, brooded First National bank and Vice President over the affair and added to it with a drinker's remembrance of past wrongs into his own hands and used the rifle. They say that the quarrel was the culm nation of the unsatisfactory life at the farm, the end of endurance and the beginning of the thought of awful crime. The police officials believe that their showing on these facts will be sufficient. When they have shown these points Best will, they expect, be held without bail for the grand jury. If the expert testimony is at hand, it may or may not be put in. If Best takes the stand and it is not likely, a continuance may possibly be asked for, but this is as improbable as is the inference that the accused

He who gives due prominence to the spiritual will find that he will not need to worry about the temporal, for God

Christ in this part of the sermon on the mount not only warns against the folly of worry, but also shows by rea-why we should not be overanxious or worry about meat or drink or our fu-

1. We should not worry because God gives us our lives. "Life is more than meat, and the body than raiment."

God gave us life. God made our bodies. These are more than meat for the life and raiment for the body. Therefore, if God has given us the greater,

we can depend on Him for the less.

He who created life can certainly be depended on to sustain it. He who made the body will not allow it to want for clothing. Having given the greater, we can safely rely upon Him

2. We should not worry because God cares for that which is less valuable than man and will therefore provide for man. He feeds the fowls of the air; He clothes the lilies of the field.

But what are the fowls of the air, what are the lilies of the field, compared to man, who has been created in God's image and redeemed by the precious blood of the Son of God? If God cares for the grass of the field, which today is and tomorrow is cast into the oven.

how can we ever doubt that He will

3. We should not worry; worry is fruitless. "Which of you, by taking thought, can add one cubit to his stature?" Worry is useless-it is worse than useless. It not only does no good, but it does harm. It unfits us for the accomplishment of the very purposes

He was immediately brought to the jail here and placed in a cell, without arraignment. It has transpired that the tardiness in the arraignment is the result of the wish on the part of the government to have no legal flaw in the indictment itself, which was drawn up by the offi-

BELONG TO ONE RACE.

arraigned in the superior criminal court | Sixto Lopez Declares That All Civilized Filipinos Are For Independenc.

> Constitute an Overwhelming Majority of Inhabitants.

> So-Called Enmity Said to Be Unknown Among Them, Except Among Semi-Civilized.

Boston, Oct. 27.-Sexto Lopez, the eminent Filipine who recently came to Boston from Europe for the purpose of explaining to the people of this country the aspirations and conditions of his countrymen, made his first public speech last night at Harvard in the Warner lecture course. He said:

"It may be well for me to state at once that I have not come to this country to interfere in party politics. Nevertheless, I tell you frankly that I am working and will continue to work for the independence of my country. To that end I should like to say a word about the people of the Philippines. It has been stated that we are divided into $4 "tribes;" that these tribes are at enmity with each other, and that they would never agree to form a united, strong tirely incorrect. "The people of the United States may be said to comprise three races, more or less blended together, namely: the Teutonic, or Anglo-Saxon; the Latin and the Slavonic. But there are also a few aboriginal tribes, as well as representatives of almost every race and nationality in the world. Similarly, the people of the Philippines comprise two races more or less blended together, namely: the Malayan and the Indonesian. But there are a few aboriginal tribes, as well as Chinese, Spanish and representatives of some other nationalities. "In the list compiled by the Schurman commission there are said to be 84 different tribes in the Philippines. But it is clear that this list has been compiled from imperfectly kept and still nore imperfectly spelt Spanish records.

Mr. Lopez described the tribes which are classed as semi-civilized, and said: The remaining millions of Filipinos constitute more than nineteen-twentieths of the entire population of the archipelago, and are divided into provincial districts. All of these provincial peowith breaking and entering the home of and arts of civilization, and speaking dialects which are as similar to each other as are the dialects of the different provinces in England. As a matter of lects of the seven provincial districts would not be a real difficulty to independent self-government. First, because the difference in so slight, and secondly, because Spanish is the official language of our country

> "Now as to the supposed enmity be tween these so-called tribes: Such enmity is quite unknown among our people. During the short term when our government was not interfered with the most perfect harmony and unanimity existed, and provincial and racial differences were never even thought of. When our government was first established, emissaries came from almost all the provinces and islands, declaring their support on behalf of those from whom they came. Even the Moros of Mindanao and the Igorrotes of north Luzon, who had never been subdued by Spain, acclaimed Aguinaldo, and were prepared to recognize his government. The interrelations of the people of the several provincial districts show that no such enmity has existed or does now exist. In the schools and colleges, especially in Manila, there are representatives of all the chief provincials, and it would be impossible to tell which were which. There is an educational institution (purely Finipino) granting scholarships, enabling the winners to study in Europe. These the archigelago.

"In Japan, the official representative of the so-called 'Tagalog despotism' is an Ilocano. In Madrid all the Filipinos have formed themselves into a committee and are working unitedly for independence. On the committee are Tagals, Viscayans, Dicols, Ilocanos and Pangasinans. This is an important fact, as all these men are free from all external influences, yet every one of them has voluntarily chosen to support Aguinaldo and to work for the independence of our country.

"As a matter of fact, with the exception of the few uncivilized tribes in central Mindanao and the semi-civilized Argorrotes and Negritos of Luzon, the Filipinos are a homogeneous people, belonging to one race. Although they speak several dialects, they are one people. They constitute an overwhelming majority of the inhabitants of the Philippines. They are opposed not solely to American, but to any foreign rule, and they are united in the desire for independence and for the purpose of maintaining a stable, independent government.'

A GENEROUS WELCOME

Extended to Candidate Roosevelt Upon His Arrival at New York.

City Fairly Overflowed With Republican Rejoicings.

Messers. Bryan and Croker Receive Hard Raps From the Governor In His Address.

New York, Oct. 27 .- Madison Square for its entire length and breadth was one glimmering garden of color last night in honor of the coming to town of Governor Roosevelt. From shortly after dark until late into the night the tumult continued. The tower of the garden was illuminated with myriads of tiny incandescent lights and brilliant fountains and showers of sparks were sent off from all sides of the park.

The city overflowed with Republican enthusiasm. Beginning with the arrival of the train at the Grand Central station, at 5:30 o'clock, until midnight, when the "rough rider" governor went all tired and weary to his sister's home for the night, such a series of receptions, such a burning of fireworks, such electrical displays and such volumes of eloquence are seldom seen in New York. It was the climax of the candidate's tour of many thousands of miles.

Not until after Governor Roosevelt reached the garden and was well along in his speech did the paraders begin to reach Madison Square in any force Coming from so many points, there was more or less, and the first columns, scheduled to arrive about 7:30, were from 10 minutes to three-quarters of an hour late. But when they did finally begin to converge on the square there was a spectacle which is seldom seen. By 9 o'clock every street seemed to lead to Madison square and from every thoroughfare they came, thousands and tens of thousands. They had torches and transparencies and flags and dinner pails and enthusiasm. Fifth avenue was one red glare away up for miles and around Madison square the groups marched and counter-marched and cheered and sang and shouted. Tons of fireworks were burned and it was only when completely tired out that the many groups broke up, and after a while went home. A few of the paraders stopped for a moment or two to hear the spellbinders, and some of the earlier arrivals tried to get into the garden. Very few succeeded, as the big meeting-place was filled to its capacity long before.

Speeches were made by Charles F. Fairchild, ex-Secretary of the United States treasury; Mr. Odell, former Governor Black and Senator Frye of Maine. Governor Roosevelt began his address by saying that he was proud of being civilized world, and this would be folon the same platform with ex-Secretary

Fairchild. He said: "Wherever I have been in this cam- publics are earnestly striving to ge paign. On the subject of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Croker, the governor said: "Mr. Bryan comes to this state as the guest of Mr. Croker. Bryan comes to this state pleading loyalty to the memory of Jefferson and associating with Mr. Croker. Jefferson's statement was that the whole art of government consisted in being honest. Mr. Croker's statement is that he is in polices for his pocket every time. I am not slandering Mr. Croker, I am merely quoting him."

Governor Roosevelt then plunged into the issues of the campaign, starting out with free silver, and following the lines of his many addresses on this subject. He touched on the present prosperity of the country, and how Mr. Bryan's prophecies regarding the gold standard had turned out to be wrong, and condemned him for raising a feeling of envy in the minds of the working class against the

Getting down to imperialism, the governor said: "Our opponents talk of the dangers of imperialism. For the and an honest government. We want sake of the most shadowy ghost that ever raised to frighten political children; the ghost of militarism. Militarism! Here in this building a week ago, Mr. Bryan repeated what he either knows, or ought to know, to be an absolute slander, when he said that our little army had been created with the purpose of putting it into forts to overcome working men of hopefully, with increasing love of counour great cities."

some time, and that the agreement will be confined to Great Britain and Germany, at least until there is a fuller understanding of the third clause than either of these governments has given thus far.

A diplomatic official said yesterday that on mature consideration of this third clause, it was seen to involve two constructions: first, that if any power took territory in China, as a result of the present trouble, then Germany and Great Britain also would take territory; or, second, that if any country took territory in China, Germany and Great Britain would seek to prevent this action, or otherwise jointly act against the country seeking to extend its do-

Either construction, it was pointed out, was such that the powers not party to the agreement could not be expected to bind themselves to its acceptance. Under these circumstances, it was said that the powers probably would seek to learn Russia's views on the third clause as Russian approval undoubtedly would remove the idea that there is any possible menace intended. But it is recognized among diplomatic officials that it would be extremely difficult to secure an expression from Russia on this point, as an unfavorable rejoinder, which she might be expected to give, would amount to a declaration that she had some territorial designs on Manchuria, and a refusal to answer would be similarly open to such construction.

A BOY'S WILD RIDE.

Clinging to a ventilator on top of one of the passenger coaches of the Lehigh Valley's Black Diamond express, 16year-old John Neumis rode 95 miles in 5 minutes the other day and arrived safely at his home in Wilkesbarre, Pa. He was black with dust from head to foot, cut and blistered by flying bits of coal, and his arms ached with the task of holding on. He took the dangerous ride to let his parents know that he was still alive. The boy left his home in North Scranton sev eral weeks ago, and as time passed and his parents heard no word from him An I see the landlord comin round the corner fur in volume and buyers make less effort to they became alarmed. Finally some one started the rumor that he had been drowned.

The boy was in Sayre when he saw in the papers his reported death and at once determined to get home as quickly as possible to relieve the anxiety of his parents. He had no money but went to the railway station to see if he could not steal a ride home on a freight train. While waiting the Black Diamond steamed into the station As soon as he saw it his resolution was made. Getting on the far side of the train, he managed to climb up on the top of a car unobserved. Throwing nimself flat, he clung to a ventilator.

The road winds along the river bank with many sharp curves. Exposed as he was, he received dust, smoke and cinders full in the face. The burning cinders from the smokestack cut and sweeping him off. At Towanda he could have left his perilous position, but he set his teeth and held on. At Tunkhannock he was almost exhausted, but he was only 20 miles from home. When the junction was reached, he was so weak and cramped that for a time he was com pelled to rest. Then he tramped the five miles to his home, where he was received with open arms.

Bogyland. There's a wonderful land called Bogyland On the other side of the moon,

Where the big round sun stock still doth stand. And it's always afternoon.

The time of year it is always May, And there's never ice nor snow, But they never can tell the time of day, For the Bogyland clocks don't go.

No houses are builded in Bogyland, No cities nor towns are there, But beautiful trees in blossom stand In the sunlight everywhere. The leaves don't fall nor the roses fade,

And the birds don't fly away, And both in the sunlight and the shade It is just so warm each day They never labor in Bogyland,

And nothing is bought nor sold, And nobody there can understand Why people should strive for gold. There sugar grows on a sugar tree, And creams in the rivers flow, And bonbons always are furnished free; Oh, wouldn't you like to go?

A wonderful land is this Bogyland On the other side of the moon,
And the people there are a happy band,
And life is a blessed boon.

I'll tell you what we had better do Some beautiful summer day-Just pack our traps, with a friend or two, And sail for that land away. And I'll be the king of the Bogyland,

And the babies all shall be

My loyal subjects, each to stand
And defend me valiantly, And we'll dance to a rollicking, jolly tune, Just forever and for aye,
In that land where it's always afternoon

And the month is always May. -Julian S. Cutler.

Attraction.

Fruits fall to the earth because the earth attracts them. Bubbles in a cup of tea stand around the sides of the cup because the cup attracts them. The little bubbles gather about the large ones because the large bubbles attract the smaller ones. Why do the bubbles follow a teaspoon? Because the spoon attracts them. Why are the sides of a pond covered with leaves, while the middle is clear? Because the shore attracts the leaves to itself.

A Laplanders' Friend.

The Laplanders depend greatly upon the reindeer for their daily food. Reindeer give them the only milk they can obtain; their flesh is the staple article of diet, eaten both fresh as venison and also after having been dried in the smoke of their fires. The skin furnishes them with useful material for clothing, and the living reindeer is the beast of burden and draft animal of those bitterly cold northern climes.

A Loving Nephew.

A small Kansas boy, staying in the country, was requested by his aunt to write home to her long letters, recounting the incidents of his visit. He sent the following:

My Dear Aunt Margaret-Grandfather sends you My Dear Aunt Margaret—Grandather sends you his love; grandmother sends love, Uncle John Bends love, Aunt Jennie sends love, Millie and Tom send love; I send my love too. Now, as I cannot think of anything more to write, I will close. Your loving nephew, Dick.

SHOD BAILEY'S MARE.

Lynn Blacksmith Gives Evidence In the Breakheart Hill Farm Mystery.

Best Was Very Drunk and Well Supplied With Money.

Prosecution Believes That Murder Was Accomplished With a Builet From a Rifle.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 29.—The blacksmith who shod the little black mare for John C. Best subsequent to George E. Bailey's Thomas T. O'Connor of Lynn.

O'Connor says that Best stopped at his place about 9 o'clock on the night of Oct. 12, and got him out of bed to put or a shoe on the mare. Best had admitted that he got the animal shod, but has said he was so drunk he could not remember who the blacksmith was.

O'Connor charged 25 cents for the job. but Best paid him 50 cents, saying it was one too much, as he had got him out bed. Best said to O'Connor at the me that it was pretty bad to get the police after him, and he didn't want any trouble, which O'Connor interpreted to mean that Best was afraid he would be prosecuted if he drove a lame horse or a horse without a shoe.

It is well to be prepared for the cool mornings and Evenings of September by having at hand a light weight overcoat. Best further asked O'Connor if he would like some whisky, and pulled a bottle of whisky from his pocket. He said that was what he came down for. and he thought as long as he was that way he might as well have the mare

O'Connor says that in addition to put-DERBIES AND ALPINES, $1.00 to $3.00. ting on one shoe, he also put some nails in the other shoes. The police have had hese shoes removed.

The remark of Best regarding the police and his action when meeting a police offi-cer in Saugus on the night of Oct.10, when on his way home with Arthur ordan and Winfield Rowe, are taken by the officers as indications that Best had a dread of the police. The fact that he paid O'Connor more money than the latter asked is considered evidence that he was well supplied with money.

State Officer Proctor has returned from his trip to various firearms establish ments in this state and Connecticut where he went to obtain expert compari sons of the bullets found in George E. Bailey's body and those found at the Breakheart Hill farm. Officer Proctor says that from what he is not prepared to assert that the rifle found at the farm is the one from which the bullet was fired. It is claimed by others who are conducting the investigations, however that the government will be able to prove that the murder was committed with that ifle, which is now in their possession. This is in direct opposition to the laim of the defense, that the weapor

Best, in an interview with Officer Neal vesterday, said he didn't remember, beause he was drunk, but he thought he drove out that way. This admission of Best is believed to be of considerable importance.

A Sadly Afflicted Family.

Port Clinton, O., Oct. 29.—Near Plaster Bed, on Sandusky bay, William Stark and four of his children, aged 3. 5, 8 and 13 years, went for a boat ride yesterday. The boat became fouled in a fish pound net, and the oarsman could neither forge the boat ahead or go back. The children became frightened, and the small craft capsized, resulting in the deaths of the children. Mr. Stark came here from Toledo three weeks ago. He then had a family of a wife and 10 children. Last week, Harver, aged 4, 1ied, and the week before another child, aged 3 months, also died.

FAGIN SWEARS YENGEANCE. Former American Soldier at the Head of a Body of Filipino Insurgents.

Manila, Oct. 29.-A civilian launch towing a barge loaded with merchandise, near Arayat, was attacked by a force of 150 insurgents, under David Fagin, a deserter from the Twenty-fourth infantry. The American troops, on hearing the firing, turned out in force before the boat could be looted, and recaptured

Fagin, who holds the rank of general among the insurgents, has sworn special enmity toward his former company. Of the 20 men he captured a month ago, seven have returned. One was killed in a fight, his body having been horribly mutilated. Fagin sends messages to his former comrades threatening them with violence if they become his prisoners. It was Fagin's men who captured Lieutenant Frederick W. Alstaetter, who is still a prisoner.

General Hall's expedition, with a force of nearly 800 men, through the mountains to Binangonan, in pursuit of the insurgent general, Gailles, although it discovered no trace of the enemy, encounmen were sent into the hospital. Reports from General Young's district show a daily increase of insurgents there, owing to the fact that recruits are going thither from the town.

While a detail of the Thirty-third volinteer infantry was returning from Bangued, on rafts, it was fired upon by insurgents, Sergeant Berdstaller being killed and two privates wounded.

While scouting near Looc, a detach ment of the Twentieth and Twenty eighth regiments, under Captain Biegler, were attacked by 400 insurgents, armed with rifles, under the command of a white man, whose nationality is not known to the Americans. The insur gents for the most part were intrenched. After an heroic fight, Captain Beigler drove off the enemy, killing more than 75. The fight lasted for two hours. ## A PROSPEROUS WINTER

Predicted For Those Who Are Interested In the Anthracite Coal Trade.

But One Big Company Has Not Granted Miners' Demands.

General Resumption of Work This Morning Is Hazleton and Wyoming Valley Regions.

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—The Ledger, in its coal article today, says: The anthracite coal trade is everywhere preparing for the resumption of mining this week, and a brisk season at full working is anticipated at the mines. It will take tered great hardships on the march. several days to get everything in good Twenty Chinese porters died, and 40 moving order, but, once begun, a prosorders to be filled so that enormous quan tities will be sent to market at the earliest opportunity, every available car being now sought to send to the breakers. All the coal companies in the Wyoming valley, with a few exceptions, have now posted notices granting their employe the 10 percent increase asked for by the Scranton convention. The exceptions are a few individual operators who de not employ many hands. But it is said that when the men employed at thes ollieries report for work they will b told that they will receive the samwages as paid by the other companies. The Kingston Coal company had no

The Van Wickle company has granted the increase at its other collieries at Colerain and Beaver Meadow

Boston, Oct. 30 .- Cornelius L. Alvord, the defaulting note teller of the First National bank of New York, was arrested in the Back Bay yesterday afterneon by Chief Inspector Watts and Detective Armstrong of New York. He was caught in a lodging house on Huntington avenue, near West Newton street, and, accompanied by the chief inspector, was driven in a closed carriage to the slightly injured. A hack was called and he was driven to police headquarters, and, after being measured and photographed, he was taken to New York on the 5 o'clock train, under escort of Detective Sergeant Tinker and Deectives Armstrong and Carey, all of New York, and Detective Morrisey of the Chief Inspector Watts, in an interview, formed that Alvord was in this city last Wednesday morning, when Henry Alexander of Denver telephoned that he had seen Alvord at the Hotel Touraine. He stated that he knew him well, had done business with him in New York and described him perfectly. This informaion was immediately telephoned to Captain McClusky of New York, who immediately sent Detective Sergeant Tinker over here to identify him. In the meantime, Chief Waits and Detective? STUDENTS TURNED OUT IN FORCE. A Happy Remark by Governor Roosevelt Pul Cornell Boys In Good Humor.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 30 .- The Roosevel train arrived here just a little behind time, and the greatest enthusiasm of the entire trip was manifested in the city and at the train. This was due partly to the presence of Cornell college stu dents. A trolley car was in waiting at the depot, and as it passed down the main street towards the meeting place it had to go through lines of students, exhibiting the wildest enthusiasm. One squad of students had dinner pails in their hands and wore blue jumpers, i imitation of working men. The gov ernor enjoyed the thing immensely. A parade was formed with three bands and a great crowd of students and citizens. In the crowd circulars had been dis tributed asking him his record as to assertions he was alleged to have made regarding farmers and laborers, and col ecting a piece of verse called "Rufflar

THIRTY SPEECHES IN A DAY. Bryan's Tour of Monday In the Empire State Broke His Previous Record.

"I am not responsible for what is done in North Carolina," said Mr. Bryan. "But your party is," insisted the man in the crowd.

BRYAN STARTS WEST,

Made Over a Hundred Speeches During His Tour of the Empire State.

Roosevelt Meets a Turbulent Crowd at Geneva.

An Appeal to the Flag Produced Quiet Only For a Few Minutes.

New York, Oct. 31 .- The three presilential trains passed at Elmira yesterday morning. Candidates Woolley and Bryan went by the Roosevelt train as it they suggest that this feeling may have listed men; China, 80 officers and 2060 lay at Stanchfield's home, but no courtesies were exchanged. Mr. Bryan is the agreement with England. hurrying away from the east to spend the remaining days of the campaign in the middle west. He concluded the final day of his state campaign tour in Dunkirk last night. He began the day at the town of Addison, and spoke at the following other places: Hornellville, Almond, Alfred, Andover, Wellsville, Belmont, Friendship, Cuba, Hinsdale, Olean, Salamanca, Randolph, Jamestown and southwestern part of the state, and all have been strongly Republican in politics. The meetings of the day were generally well attended, and some of hem quite enthusiastic.

Mr. Bryan left late last night on the Lake Shore railroad for Ohio, expecting o begin a one-day tour of that state with speech at Toledo today. All told, h as made 110 speeches in this state.

At Dunkirk Mr. Bryan made orief statement, giving his impressio of the situation in New York. He said: 'If the reports which come from the vaious counties where polls have been made can be taken as representing the general sentiment throughout the state, we have more than an even chance of carrying the state." Mr. Bryan's train did not reach Dun kirk until 9 o'clock last night, but after his arrival he made three speeches. Mr Bryan compared the national govern nent to a corporation, and the national officials to a board of directors. In orlinary affairs, he said, if a board of directors was not satisfactory, it would be displaced by others. He thought it should be so in the national administration, and if the people were displeased He again touched on the criticism of him for failing to discuss the financial question, referring inquiries, as on several occasions, to the Democratic platform, and adding: "But if any one knows me he does not even have to refer to the Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 31.-The Roose velt train arrived here last night over an our late. Despite the unpleasant weather the party found great crowds both at the depot and the two great halls, and a splendid greeting was accorded the vice presidential candidate. There was ness Men's associations, and both audi oriums were filled to overflowing. In addition to a remarkably enthusiasic gathering at Corning, the home of the lub that was assaulted at Elmira, Monlay night, the only incident of the day ccurred at Geneva, where there was in attempt to prevent the governor from speaking. Raising his voice so as to be heard above the turbulent cries, the roverner said: "I want to say one hing to you here. There is one thing nore important than any difference of policy among Americans, and that is the keeping of our own self-respect. Whenever you see a party that tries to nterrupt a public speaker you may be sure it is because they dare not hear the truth. Mr. Bryan comes to this state and I am proud to see he is listened to with respectful attention wherever he goes, no matter how much people may differ from him in opinion. The worst effecion that can be cast upon the folowers of Mr. Bryan is cast upon them y their own actions when they try to reak up an orderly meeting and to try to interrupt free speech, and when they o it they hurt no one but themselves." 'Gentlemen," continued the governor appeal to you for the honor of that which was on the stand), but he was inerrupted by renewed shouts of "Hurrah or Bryan.' "Gentlemen," said the governor, "I want you to reflect what a pretty showing you make when you try to interrupt an appeal to the flag." This remark caused the noise to diminish somewhat, but it was soon renewed, and continued until the governor finished his remarks. It was 9 o'clock when the governor's train rolled into Rochester, the wet tracks and side roads delaying the party. The governor proceeded at once to the halls where the speaking was to take place. He discussed in the same the Quincy New and Second general way that he has at other points, Hand Variety Store corner of trusts and imperialism, and the charges Franklin and Water Streets are made by Democratic speakers of lack of opportunity for young men in this coun-Says Bryan Will Carry New York.
